Actions to lower fire risk category

19. (1) Despite section 18, if an operator ensures that all of the measures described in subsection (2) are implemented at a worksite for an industrial operation, the fire risk category for the industrial operation shall be lowered as follows for the purposes of this Regulation:

1. An industrial operation that was categorized as a very high fire risk operation under section 18 shall be re-categorized as a moderate fire risk operation.

3. Hot work, rail production grinding and switch crossing grinding that are categorized as high fire risk operations under section 18 shall be re-categorized as moderate fire risk operations.

(2) The following are the measures that an operator must implement at a worksite for the purposes of subsection (1):

1. The worksite must be soaked with water or with a fire suppression foam mixture before the operations begin and after the operations are completed for the day and must be kept in a wet condition during operations.
2. At least one worker must be assigned to monitor the worksite while the industrial operations are being carried out to watch for sparks or other signs that a fire has been ignited and to take immediate actions to halt the spread of fire if it is safe to do so.
3. At least one worker must be employed to actively patrol the worksite for at least one hour after the operations are completed for the day and to extinguish any fires he or she may find if it is safe to do so.
4. Workers engaged in monitoring or patrolling a worksite under paragraph 2 or 3 must be equipped with telephones or other devices capable of immediate two-way communication with the local fire management headquarters and ensure that any fires that may occur are immediately reported to the Ministry.
5. Workers conducting hot work operations must put in place non-combustible screens designed and able to catch any and all material capable of producing fire ignitions.

Forest Fire Fuel Groups

20. (1) The following five forest fire fuel groups are established for the purposes of this Regulation:

1. Fuel Group 1, consisting of deciduous species and live grass-dominated stands.
2. Fuel Group 2, consisting of deciduous-dominated mixed woods (less than 35% conifer), spruce-lichen woodlands, mature red and white pine, conifer on peat or organic soil.
3. Fuel Group 3, consisting of mixed woods (between 35% to 64% conifer), mature jack-pine, self-thinned and pruned spruce.
4. Fuel Group 4, consisting of mature upland boreal spruce without conifer understory, conifer plantations and mixed wood stands (more than 64% conifer).
5. Fuel Group 5, consisting of mature upland boreal spruce with conifer understory, immature conifer, mixed wood stands with dead balsam fir, cured grass and slash-dominated sites.

(2) The operator of an industrial operation shall examine the vegetation at the operation's worksite to classify the type of vegetation as one of the five forest fire fuel groups referred to in subsection (1).

(3) In order to classify the vegetation at a worksite as a forest fire fuel group, an operator shall follow the procedures set out in Appendix C (Forest Fire Fuel Group Decision Keys) of the document entitled "Industrial Operations Protocol", dated September 20, 2015, published by the Ministry and available from the Ministry or on a website maintained by the Government of Ontario and apply any applicable modifications or adjustments to those procedures described in the document.

(4) Throughout the fire season, the operator shall carry out as many examinations and re-classifications of the vegetation at a worksite in a forest area as are necessary to account for seasonal changes and changes to the location of the worksite.

Fire intensity codes

21. (1) For the purposes of this Regulation, the following five fire intensity codes are established, each code indicating a different rate with which a fire would burn and a different level of difficulty in controlling or suppressing a fire, thus a different overall level of fire danger:

1. Fire intensity code A (Extreme fire danger).
2. Fire intensity code B (Very high fire danger).
3. Fire intensity code C (High fire danger).
4. Fire intensity code D (Moderate fire danger).
5. Fire intensity code E (Low fire danger).

(2) The Ministry shall, on a daily basis,

- (a) gather meteorological data from Ministry weather stations throughout the province and develop weather forecasts for every area to which a weather station is assigned;
- (b) based on the gathered meteorological data, determine, for each Ministry weather station, the following day's fire intensity codes applicable to every forest fire fuel group referred to in subsection 20 (1); and
- (c) prepare a fire intensity code report containing all of the fire intensity codes for the following day determined under clause (b) and make the report available to the public by,
 - (i) publishing the report on a website of the Government of Ontario, and
 - (ii) leaving the information contained in the report in a recorded telephone message at the local fire management headquarters that can be accessed by callers.

(3) For the purposes of clause (2) (b), fire intensity codes shall be determined in accordance with the process described in section 3.4 of the document entitled "Industrial Operations Protocol", dated September 20, 2015, published by the Ministry and available from the Ministry or on a website maintained by the Government of Ontario.

Daily determination of fire danger

22. (1) Every day, an operator who carries out an industrial operation in a forest area during the fire season shall,

- (a) consult the fire intensity code report for the next day once it has been made available to the public by the Ministry under clause 21 (2) (c); and
- (b) determine which of the fire intensity codes contained in the Ministry report applies to both the weather station nearest to the operation's worksite and the forest fire fuel group present at the worksite as identified by the operator under subsection 20 (2).

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to an operator until the Ministry weather station nearest to the operation's worksite begins operations for the fire season.

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply to an operator if the operator and the industrial operation meet the following criteria:

1. The operator has installed a weather station in the area in which the operator is carrying out industrial operations that meets the standards for measuring temperature, relative humidity, precipitation and wind speed set out in the document entitled "Weather Guide for the Canadian Forest Fire Danger Rating System", dated 2008, published by Natural Resources Canada and available on a website maintained by the Government of Canada.
2. The workers at the operator's worksite carry out the following tasks each day during the fire season:
 - i. At 13:00 hours, take accurate readings or measurements of the temperature, relative humidity, wind speed and precipitation values from the weather station installed by the operator.
 - ii. Access the "Fire Weather Forecast Map" published by the Ministry on a website maintained by the Government of Ontario that sets out the next day's forecasted weather conditions.

- iii. Follow the process for determining the next day's fire intensity codes, as that process is described in section 3.4 of the document entitled "Industrial Operations Protocol", dated September 20, 2015, published by the Ministry and available from the Ministry or on a website maintained by the Government of Ontario.
 - iv. Keep accurate records, for a five-year period, of the daily weather observations, forecasted weather conditions and fire intensity codes, including any fire weather indices that may be determined as part of the process for determining the fire intensity codes.
- (4) The operator shall use the fire intensity code determined each day under subsection (1) or (3),
- (a) as an indicator of the overall fire danger and of how a fire could behave should it ignite in a forest area; and
 - (b) to determine the precautions that should be applied to the next day's operations to prevent a fire from igniting in the forest area as a result of the industrial operations being carried out, including any modifications to the next day's operations that may be required under section 23.

Modifying hours of operation

23. (1) Based on the fire risk category of an industrial operation and the fire intensity code determined under section 22 for the industrial operation's worksite on any given day, the operator of the industrial operation shall ensure that the hours of operation for the next day are adjusted as required under this section.

(2) This section does not apply to an industrial operation relating to the construction or maintenance of utility corridors or railway rights of way if those operations are immediately necessary to ensure public safety or, due to exigent circumstances, to comply with the law and if the following conditions are met:

1. The operator has prepared a fire prevention and preparedness plan in accordance with section 24 that contains provisions relating to the conduct of such operations and specifies the steps to be taken to minimize the risk of fire and to monitor the site.
2. The operator is carrying out operations in accordance with the fire prevention and preparedness plan.
3. The operator reports the location of the operations and the circumstances in which they are being carried out to the local fire management headquarters.

(3) If an industrial operation that falls within a fire risk category set out in Column 1 of the Table to this subsection does not meet the requirements for a trained and capable industrial operation as described in subsection (5) and plans on a given day to carry out operations in a forest area to which a fire intensity code set out opposite in Column 2 of the Table applies for that day, then, on that day, the operator shall ensure that operations are shut down or that the hours of operation are reduced as indicated in Column 3 of the Table:

TABLE
REQUIREMENT TO SHUT DOWN OR REDUCE HOURS OF OPERATION
(NOT TRAINED AND CAPABLE OPERATIONS)

Column 1 Fire Risk Category	Column 2 Fire Intensity Code	Column 3 Reduction of hours
Very high risk operation	A, B or C	Shut down operations

High risk operation	C	No operations between 12:00 and 19:00 hours local time
Moderate risk operation	A	Shut down operations
Moderate risk operation	B	No operations between 12:00 and 19:00 hours local time

(4) If an industrial operation that falls within a fire risk category set out in Column 1 of the Table to this subsection meets the requirements for a trained and capable industrial operation as described in subsection (5) and plans on a given day to carry out operations in a forest area to which a fire intensity code set out opposite in Column 2 of the Table applies for that day, then, on that day, the operator shall ensure that operations are shut down or that the hours of operation are reduced as indicated in Column 3 of the Table:

TABLE
REQUIREMENT TO SHUT DOWN OR REDUCE HOURS OF OPERATION
(TRAINED AND CAPABLE OPERATIONS)

Column 1 Fire Risk Category	Column 2 Fire Intensity Code	Column 3 Reduction of hours

High risk operation	B	No operations between 12:00 and 19:00 hours local time
Moderate risk operation	A or B	No operations between 12:00 and 19:00 hours local time

(5) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4), an industrial operation is considered to be a trained and capable industrial operation if,

- (a) the operator has prepared a fire prevention and preparedness plan in accordance with section 24, is following the plan and has equipped the worksite with the fire suppression equipment required under section 26;
- (b) at least one person at the operation's worksite is equipped with a telephone or other device capable of immediate two-way communication with the local fire management headquarters and other workers at the worksite are capable of contacting that person at all times; and
- (c) at least 25 per cent of the persons working at the operation's worksite have received forest fire suppression training using training material prepared by the Ministry.

(6) On any day that an operator of an industrial operation is required to reduce hours under subsection (3) or (4), the operator shall ensure that at least one worker, equipped with a telephone or other device capable of immediate two-way communication with the local fire management headquarters, patrols the area in which operations were carried out for at least one hour after operations cease and extinguishes any fire that the worker finds if it is safe to do so.

(7) If an operator is required to shut down operations on any day under subsection (3) or (4), the operator shall,

- (a) shut down operations at 06:00 hours local time on the day in question;
- (b) not begin operations until the requirement to shut down operations no longer applies; and
- (c) ensure that at least one worker, equipped with a telephone or other device capable of immediate two-way communication with the local fire management headquarters, patrols the worksite for signs of fire or smoke for at least one hour after operations cease and extinguishes any fire that the worker finds if it is safe to do so.

(8) Workers engaged in patrolling and monitoring a worksite under subsection (6) or (7) must report any fires to the Ministry immediately upon discovering the fires.

Fire prevention and preparedness plan

24. (1) The operator of an industrial operation shall prepare a fire prevention and preparedness plan for the industrial operation in accordance with this section.

(2) This section does not apply to an industrial operation consisting of forest operations that are subject to a Forest Management Plan approved under the Crown Forest Sustainability Act, 1994.

(3) The fire prevention and preparedness plan shall be completed before the industrial operations are undertaken and shall be provided to the Ministry upon request.

(4) A copy of the fire prevention and preparedness plan shall be kept at every worksite for the industrial operation.

(5) A fire prevention and preparedness plan shall include,

- (a) the name, phone number, address and other contact information of the operator of the industrial operation;
