Final Amendments to the Distribution System Code

Note: The text of the final amendments is set out in italics below, for ease of identification only.

1. Section 1.7 of the DSC is amended to add the following at the end of the section:

Section 2.6.1A comes into force on December 31, 2016.

2. Section 2.4.6 of the Distribution System Code is amended by adding the following at the end of the list of items:

- The business practices the distributor uses to estimate bills where no metered consumption is available.

3. Section 2.6 of the Distribution System Code is amended by adding the following immediately after section 2.6.1:

2.6.1A A distributor shall issue a bill to each non-seasonal residential customer and each general service < 50kW customer on a monthly basis.

4. Section 2.10 will be added to the DSC immediately after section 2.9:

2.10 Estimated Billing

2.10.1 Where a smart meter or interval meter has been installed, a distributor shall issue a bill to a residential or general service < 50 kW customer based on an actual meter read.

2.10.2 Despite 2.10.1, to account for exceptional circumstances, a distributor may issue a bill to a residential or general service < 50kW customer with a smart meter or interval meter based on estimated consumption twice every 12 months.

5. Section 4.2 of the Distribution System Code is amended by adding the following immediately after section 4.2.6:

4.2.7 A distributor shall not disconnect a residential or general service < 50 kW customer with a smart meter or interval meter based solely on an estimated bill.

6. Section 7.1 of the Distribution System Code is amended by adding the following definition immediately before the definition of “answered”:

“accurate bill” means a bill that contains correct customer information, correct meter readings, and correct rates that result in an accurately calculated bill.

7. Section 7 of the Distribution System Code is amended by adding the following section immediately after section 7.10.2:

7.11 Billing Accuracy

7.11.1 A distributor must issue an accurate bill to each of its customers.

7.11.2 This service quality requirement must be met at least 98 percent of the time on a yearly basis.

7.11.3 A distributor should not include customer accounts that are unmetered accounts (e.g. street lighting and unmetered scattered loads) or power generation accounts when calculating the percentage of accurate bills.

7.11.4 The percentage of bills accurately issued shall be calculated by subtracting the number of inaccurate bills issued for the year from the total number of bills issued for the year and dividing that number by the total number of bills issued for the year.

7.11.5 The total number of bills issued for the year includes original and reissued bills.

7.11.6 Accurate bills that need to be cancelled in order to correct another bill shall not be included in the calculation of billing accuracy measure.

7.11.7 A bill is considered inaccurate if:

- (a) the bill does not meet the definition of an accurate bill set out in section 7.1;*
- (b) the bill has been issued to the customer and subsequently cancelled due to a billing error; or*
- (c) there has been a billing adjustment in a subsequent bill as a result of a previous billing error.*
