1. Prohibitions on Pre-Registration Activities

This guideline explains prohibitions on pre-registration activities for a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Political party or constituency association prior to registration

1. A political party or constituency association must not engage in financial activities, excluding accepting memberships for $25 or less, for political purposes prior to registering with the Chief Electoral Officer. Financial activity includes, but is not limited to, accepting contributions and incurring expenses.

Candidate prior to registration

2. A candidate must not engage in financial activities for political purposes prior to registering with the Chief Electoral Officer. Financial activity includes, but is not limited to, accepting contributions and incurring expenses.

Leadership contestant prior to registration

3. A potential leadership contestant may engage in financial activities to pay for costs regarding the feasibility of entering a leadership race. When the feasibility of entering a contest is no longer being explored, an individual seeking election as a leader must not engage in any contest financial activities until registering with the Chief Electoral Officer once the leadership contest has been called.

Nomination contestant prior to registration

4. A nomination contestant must register with Elections Ontario in order to receive contributions and finance political activities relating to a nomination contest.

2. Registration

This guideline explains how to register a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant in Ontario under the Election Finances Act.

Registering a new political party

The following text explains how to reserve a political party name, and the two processes to qualify for registration: having at least two candidates in an election and the petition process.

Reservation of a political party name

1. A political party that intends to register with the Chief Electoral Officer must first complete the Request to Reserve Name of a Political Party Form. This form must be completed in full and submitted to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Submission and reservation of a political party name

(1) The Chief Electoral Officer will determine whether or not the name and abbreviation are acceptable for registration based on the following:

(a) The proposed name and abbreviation must not contain the word 'Independent';

(b) The proposed name and abbreviation must not be similar to another political party or entity in Canada;

(c) The proposed name and abbreviation must not be abusive or offensive; and

(d) An individual must not make multiple reservations of names and abbreviations.

(2) An acceptable name and abbreviation will be reserved for a year from the date of the Chief Electoral Officer's decision.

Qualifying for political party registration

3. A political party may register with the Chief Electoral Officer using one of two registration processes:

Process 1: During a campaign period by having two candidates

A political party intending to register during a general election (or concurrent by-elections) must:

(i) if it has not already done so, submit its name reservation request to the Chief Electoral Officer no later than two days before the close of nominations to provide sufficient time for the registration process; and

(ii) nominate and endorse a candidate in two or more electoral districts to represent it.

Process 2: Outside a campaign period by using the petition process

At any time other than a campaign period, a political party intending to register on the basis of a petition must collect 1,000 signatures from eligible voters using the Petition to Register a Political Party Form. These signatures must be collected within the year that the party name has been reserved. It is not permitted to collect signatures over a period of years. Beyond the one year period, the signatures must become "stale dated" and must not be used on an application for registration.

A petition must be submitted at least two months prior to a campaign period to provide sufficient time for the registration process.

Registering a leadership contest and contestant

The following text explains how to register as a leadership contestant in Ontario under the Election Finances Act.

Pre-Registration Activity

This section explains the requirements regarding holding a leadership contest and the activities prohibited prior to a leadership contestant registering under the Election Finances Act.

Holding a leadership contest

4. The Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) defines a leadership contest to be any procedure by which a registered political party elects a leader.

A registered political party that proposes to hold a leadership contest must file with Elections Ontario a statement setting out the date of the official call of the leadership contest and the date fixed for the leadership vote.

If a party charges a fee to become a contestant, the payment of that fee is not treated as a contribution to the party. However, the rules governing contributions apply when a registered contestant is collecting funds to pay such fees. Internal party contest rules and fees are not regulated by Elections Ontario.

Financial activity prior to registration

5. Prior to the date of registration, the financial activity of a person exploring the feasibility of becoming a leadership contestant is not regulated.

    (a) Prior to registration, monies raised for registration fees and deposits are not considered to be contributions to a potential leadership contestant. Therefore, a prospective leadership contestant may raise or use personal monies for the administrative costs of fees and deposits to the registered political party.

    (b) When the feasibility of entering a contest is no longer being explored, an individual seeking election as the leader of a party must register with Elections Ontario prior to accepting contributions and incurring expenses. A person is deemed to be seeking election as leader of a registered party as soon as the person incurs expenses for goods or services in relation to a leadership contest or accepts contributions in relation to a leadership contest.

The financial activity of a registered leadership contestant is regulated from the date of registration and the rules governing contributions apply.

Requirement to register

6. When the post of leader of a registered party has become vacant, a person who is seeking election as leader of the registered party is required to register even if the party has not officially called the contest.

A person is deemed to be seeking election as leader of a registered party as soon as the person incurs expenses for goods or services in relation to a leadership contest or accepts contributions in relation to a leadership contest.

Registering a constituency association

The following text explains how to register a constituency association in Ontario under the Election Finances Act.

Requirement to register

7. A constituency association needs to register with Elections Ontario in order to:

    (a) receive contributions and issue tax receipts to its contributors; and

    (b) finance its political activities.

Pre-registration requirements

The following text explains the registration requirements prior to submitting a constituency association registration form.

Appointing a CFO

8. A constituency association must appoint a CFO before registering with Elections Ontario.

Political party requirements

9. As a constituency association endorsed by a registered political party, there may be certain preregistration requirements specific to the political party that must be met. Consult with your political party for any requirements.

Statement of assets and liabilities

10. As part of its application for registration, the CFO of the constituency association must provide Elections Ontario with a Statement of Assets and Liabilities as of a date within 90 days of the date of its application for registration.

This initial statement is not required to be audited. However, it must be attested to by the CFO of the constituency association and the attestation must be witnessed.

Endorsement by political party

11. The registered political party endorsing the constituency association must certify the endorsement as part of the application for registration. A party official must either sign the Constituency Association Registration and Change Notice Form or, if endorsing multiple constituency associations at the same time, submit a letter of endorsement. The letter of endorsement must be sent to Elections Ontario stating the constituency association endorsed by the political party.

Endorsement by an independent member

12. The independent member endorsing the constituency association must certify the endorsement as part of the application for registration. The independent member must sign the Constituency Association Registration and Change Notice Form.

Registering a nomination contest and contestant

The following text explains how to register as a nomination contestant in Ontario under the Election Finances Act.

Pre-Registration Activity

This section explains the requirements of a registered political party or a registered constituency association holding a nomination contest.

Holding a nomination contest

13. A registered political party or a registered constituency association that proposes to hold a nomination contest must file with Elections Ontario a statement setting out the date of the official call of the nomination contest and the date fixed for the nomination vote (Notice of Nomination Contest Form).

If a party charges a fee to become a contestant, the payment of that fee is not treated as a contribution to the party or constituency association. However, once a contest is called, the rules governing contributions apply when a contestant is collecting funds to pay such fees. Internal party contest rules and fees are not regulated by Elections Ontario.

Registering a nomination contestant

14. A nomination contestant must register with Elections Ontario in order to receive contributions and finance political activities in a contest period.

Anyone who actively engages in the contest must register with Elections Ontario as soon as Elections Ontario is advised one is taking place.

Registering a candidate

The following text explains how to register as a candidate in Ontario under the Election Finances Act.

Registration under the Election Finances Act is achieved by filing the Candidate Nomination Paper.

Prior to an election period

15. Candidate Nomination Papers can be filed with Elections Ontario at any time prior to the nomination period.

During the six-month period before the writ of election is issued, when a nomination paper has been accepted and approved, Elections Ontario will issue a Certificate of Nomination indicating that:

(a) the applicant will be a candidate in the election and they will be referred to as a pre-certified candidate; and

(b) after the writ of election is issued, they will be referred to as a registered candidate.

A pre-certified candidate may not receive contributions or incur expenses until the writ of election is issued and they are deemed registered.

During an election period

16. Nomination papers may be filed with the returning officer for the electoral district during the nomination period.

If approved, a Certificate of Nomination will be issued by the Returning Officer.

A person is deemed a registered candidate on and from the day the Certificate of Nomination has been issued.

Contents of application and filing methods

The following text explains the content of a registration application for a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant, and the delivery methods.

Contents of application

17. The registration requirements are contained within the prescribed Registration and Change Notice Form specific to a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant and requires, among other things, information at the time of making the application regarding the officers of the applicant and who is appointed as the chief financial officer.

Appointment of auditors

18. An auditor is a person or firm whose partners residing in Ontario are licensed under the Public Accounting Act, 2004 and cannot be a returning officer, deputy returning officer, election clerk, candidate, leadership contestant, chief financial officer of a registered political party, constituency association, leadership contestant or candidate.

Political parties and constituency associations

Leadership contestants

A leadership contestant must appoint an auditor within 30 days of receiving at least $10,000 in contributions or incurring expenses of at least $10,000 with respect to a leadership contest.

Candidates

A candidate must appoint an auditor within 30 days of receiving at least $10,000 in contributions or incurring expenses of at least $10,000 with respect to an election.

Application filing methods

19. The Chief Electoral Officer must accept the completed Registration and Change Notice Forms for a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant by any delivery method so long as the application is complete and the dates of delivery and receipt are known.

Effective dates of registration

The following text explains the effective date of registration for a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Effective date of registration for a political party, constituency association, leadership or nomination contestant

20. The Chief Electoral Officer must register a political party, constituency association, leadership or nomination contestant upon approval of the completed Registration and Change Notice Form.

21. The Chief Electoral Officer must register a candidate upon approval of the completed Candidate Nomination Paper and the writ of election is issued.

Statement of fundamental purpose for a political party

22. A registered political party must file the required Statement of Fundamental Purpose at the time of registration and in subsequent years on or before May 31 of each year.

Notification to the Chief Electoral Officer when chief financial officers change

23. Among other requirements when registration information changes, if the chief financial officer ceases to hold office for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant, another chief financial officer must immediately be appointed and an amended Registration and Change Notice Form containing the name and contact information of the new chief financial officer must be filed immediately.

Types of deregistration

The following text explains the types of deregistration for a political party or constituency association: voluntary, discretionary, and mandatory.

Voluntary deregistration by a political party

24. A registered political party may make a request in writing to the Chief Electoral Officer to be deregistered.

Voluntary deregistration by a constituency association

25. A registered constituency association may make a request in writing to the Chief Electoral Officer to be deregistered. This request must be accompanied by the approval of the registered political party.

Discretionary deregistration of a political party by the Chief Electoral Officer

(1) The Chief Electoral Officer may deregister a registered political party where:

27. The Chief Electoral Officer may deregister a registered constituency association where:

(a) the constituency association fails to immediately appoint a new chief financial officer or fails to inform the Chief Electoral Officer in writing within 30 days of any of the following registration information changes:

28. The Chief Electoral Officer must deregister a registered political party, as well as its constituency associations, if the political party registers fewer than two candidates at a general election.

Mandatory deregistration of an independent constituency association by the Chief Electoral Officer
29. The Chief Electoral Officer must promptly deregister the constituency association of an independent member and must send it notice of the deregistration, by registered mail, if the member:

(b) is nominated as a candidate of a registered party; or

(c) is not re-elected at an election as a member of the Assembly.

Consequences of deregistration
The following text explains the consequences of deregistration for a political party and constituency association.

Disposition of a political party's funds on deregistration 30.

(1) When a registered political party is deregistered, all its funds that are not required to pay outstanding debts must be paid to the Chief Electoral Officer, who must hold them in trust for the political party.

(2) If the political party does not become re-registered within two years after its deregistration, the funds must become the property of the Chief Electoral Officer.

Disposition of a constituency association's funds on deregistration 31.

(1) When a registered constituency association is deregistered, all its funds that are not required to pay outstanding debts must be paid to the Chief Electoral Officer, who must hold them in trust for the constituency association.

(2) In the case of a constituency association endorsed by a registered political party, if the constituency association does not become re-registered within two years after its deregistration, the funds must become the property of the registered political party concerned.

(3) In the case of a constituency association endorsed by an independent member of the Assembly, if the constituency association does not become re-registered within two years after its deregistration, the funds must become the property of the Chief Electoral Officer for their use in carrying out their functions under the Election Finances Act.

Constituency associations connected to a deregistered political party
32. When a registered political party is deregistered, all registered constituency associations of that political party must also be deregistered.

Filing requirements for a deregistered political party or constituency association
33. When a registered political party or constituency association applies in writing to the Chief Electoral Officer for voluntary deregistration:

(a) the chief financial officer must at the same time provide the statements of assets and liabilities and of income and expenses of the political party or constituency association for which the chief financial officer acted; and

(b) these statements together with the auditor's report (if applicable) must cover the period that starts on the day after the most recent period for which a financial statement has been filed and ends on the date of deregistration.

How to reregister after being deregistered for failure to file?
34. A political party or constituency association deregistered as a result of failure to meet financial statement reporting requirements may not apply for registration until the financial statements and the auditor's report (if applicable) have been filed with and approved by the Chief Electoral Officer.

3. Contributions

This guideline explains administering contributions, the sources, limits, and forms for a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Sources of contributions
The following text explains the sources of contributions to a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Eligible contributors to a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant

(1) Contributions to political parties, constituency associations, nomination contestants, candidates and leadership contestants registered under this Act may be made only by persons individually. This includes contributions from trust funds made by the fund trustee. All contributions are subject to the contribution limit in place at the time the contribution is made.

(2) No registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must accept an anonymous contribution.

(3) A registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant may accept directed contributions so long as the contribution does not have the effect of contravening a requirement or limit in the Election Finances Act.

(4) No registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must accept a conditional contribution. A conditional contribution is a contribution where the contributor, as a condition of making the contribution, requires the recipient to return a material benefit to the contributor in addition to providing a tax receipt.

Eligible contributors to a political party or constituency association

2. A registered political party or constituency association may also accept contributions from a deceased person's estate.

Eligible contributions to a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant

3. Only contributions solicited for the purposes of the Election Finances Act must be considered to be a contribution to a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant.

Source of contributor's funds

4. No registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant or person acting on its, his or her behalf must solicit or knowingly accept any contribution that is not made in the contributor's own funds.

Use of own funds by a candidate or leadership contestant

(1) A registered candidate may make contributions, to be used for the candidate's own campaign, and out of the candidate's own funds, that do not exceed $10,000 in total during a campaign period.

(2) A registered leadership contestant may make contributions, to be used for the contestant's own leadership campaign, and out of the contestant's own funds, that do not exceed $50,000 in total during a leadership contest period, combined with any period during which the contestant is required to be registered.

(3) A statement of expenses paid by a registered candidate or leadership contestant using his or her own funds must be provided to the chief financial officer with accompanying receipts and vouchers within three months after the polling day or leadership voting day.

Affiliated political organizations

(1) An affiliated political organization may make a contribution to a political party with which it is affiliated, a constituency association with which it is affiliated and a candidate endorsed as an official candidate by the affiliated political party or constituency association.

(2) An affiliated political organization must not accept a contribution from any person or entity other than a political party or constituency association. However, such organizations may hold specific fund-raising activities under the sponsorship of a political party, constituency association or candidate provided that the entire proceeds inclusive of a statement of income and expense of each activity are turned over to the appropriate chief financial officer.

Maximum contributions

The following text explains the contribution limits for a political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Contribution limits for a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant

7. The limits on contributions that may be accepted by a registered political party, constituency association candidate, leadership or nomination contestant are set out below.

Political Parties

In the 2026 calendar year, a person can contribute up to a limit of $5,000. In subsequent years, this amount will be multiplied by the indexation factor determined under section 40.1 for the calendar year.

Constituency associations and nomination contestants endorsed by a political party

The contributions that a person makes to registered constituency associations and registered nomination contestants of any one registered party or to the constituency association of any independent member must not exceed $3,425 in 2026. In subsequent years, this amount will be multiplied by the indexation factor determined under section 40.1 for the calendar year.

Candidates endorsed by a political party

The contributions that a person makes to registered candidates of any one registered party must not exceed $3,425 in a campaign period for 2026. In subsequent years, this amount will be multiplied by the indexation factor determined under section 40.1 for the calendar year.

Independent candidates

The contributions that a person makes to all registered candidates not endorsed by a registered party must not exceed $3,425 in a campaign period for 2026. In subsequent years, this amount will be multiplied by the indexation factor determined under section 40.1 for the calendar year.

Leadership contestant

The contributions that a person makes to any one registered leadership contestant of a registered party must not exceed, in a calendar year that falls during a leadership contest period or during which the contestant is required to be registered by virtue of subsection 14 (2.1), $3,425 in 2026. In subsequent years, this amount will be multiplied by the indexation factor determined under section 40.1 for the calendar year.

Forms of contributions

The following text explains the two types of contributions: monetary and non-monetary.

Monetary contributions

8. A monetary contribution to a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant that exceeds $25 must be made by any modern financial practice where the contributor and the account information can be confirmed.

Crowdfunding, or crowdsourcing, through the internet for contributions is also permitted, provided that the proceeds are accompanied by information that allows the CFO to trace and track contributions from individual donors. If for any reason a CFO cannot facilitate the collection of this information for crowdfunded proceeds, then it should not accept contributions through these means. Contributions must be from eligible contributors, using their own funds, and within the contribution limits.

Where there is a processing fee, the full amount sent by a contributor is the contribution amount and the processing fee is an expense.

Non-monetary contributions

The following text explains non-monetary contributions: cryptocurrency, goods and services, and political advertising.

Cryptocurrency

Contributions in the form of cryptocurrencies are considered to be non-monetary contributions.

Contributions of cryptocurrency are permitted, provided that they are accompanied by information that allows the CFO to trace and track the individual donor. Contributions must be from eligible contributors, using their own funds, and within the contribution limits.

The amount of contribution to be recorded is the commercial value of the cryptocurrency in Canadian dollars at the time that it was received, based on the actual exchange rate or the rate on a major exchange platform. The amount of the contribution should be recorded as a contribution of goods and services with an offsetting other asset account. Any transaction fees incurred should be recorded as an expense.

Goods and services contributions

(1) Goods or services accepted by a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant may be considered a contribution. If the goods and services are valued in excess of $100 they are considered a contribution and must be recorded.

(2) Goods and services provided to a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant are not contributions if:

(a) the goods are produced by voluntary labour which are not paid for by the registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant; or

(b) the aggregate value of all goods and services provided by the donor in a calendar year is $100 or less, and the donor indicates that the value is not to be considered a contribution.

(3) The value of goods and services supplied is deemed to be fair market value for similar goods or services at the time of their provision.

Goods and services provided for a price less than fair market value

10. Where goods and services are provided to a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant for a price that is less than the fair market value, the amount that the price is less than such fair market value must be considered a contribution.

Supporting documentation for goods and services

(1) The contribution of goods and services must be supported by an invoice from the supplier of the goods and services.

(2) Where a person provides services and part or all of the agreed upon fee is considered by the person to be a contribution, the person must submit a statement of account and indicate on it the amount which the contributor considers a contribution for the services performed.

Advertising constituting a contribution

(1) Political advertising constitutes a contribution if:

(a) it promotes a registered party, the nomination of a registered nomination contestant, the election of a registered candidate or the leadership of a registered leadership contestant;

(b) it is provided or arranged for by a person, organization or entity in coordination with the party, contestant or candidate, or the registered constituency association of the candidate; and

(c) its value is more than $100.

(2) Political advertising must not constitute a contribution if it is provided by a broadcasting undertaking without charge in accordance with the Broadcasting Act (Canada).

Contributions accepted by a political party on behalf of its constituency associations or candidates 13.

(1) A registered political party may accept contributions of money, but not goods and services on behalf of its registered constituency associations or candidates and must forward these "agency" contributions to such constituency associations or candidates.

(2) Contributions may only be accepted on behalf of a registered candidate during the campaign period.

(3) Before contributions are accepted on behalf of any registered constituency association or candidate, a registered political party must establish a general trust account with a financial institution for all agency contributions to be deposited and provide the Chief Electoral Officer with the name and address of the financial institution, and the names of the signing officers.

Fees for certain meetings may be considered a contribution

(1) Funds given to a registered political party or constituency association covering fees for meetings, seminars, workshops or conferences, provided that such events are sponsored by the political party or constituency association, and are held in Ontario, may be considered a contribution and are eligible for a tax receipt subject to the maximum contribution limit.

(2) Attendance at such events is considered to be part of the Ontario political process and, therefore, such contributions are accepted for the purposes set forth in the Election Finances Act. Where the registration fee includes hotel, meal and travel costs, the entire amount of the fee may be considered to be a contribution subject to the maximum contribution limit.

Administering contributions

The following text explains accepting, recording, returning, and disclosing contributions.

Accepting, recording and disclosing contributions for a political party using an electronic database for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts

15. If a registered political party is required or has chosen to maintain an electronic database for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts, sections 5 to 7 and 10 of the Electronic Database Guidelines apply with respect to accepting, recording and disclosing contributions for the political party.

Accepting of contributions

(1) All money accepted by or on behalf of a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must only be deposited into a bank account on record with the Chief Electoral Officer.

(2) Only the chief financial officer or other authorized persons on record with the Chief Electoral Officer may accept contributions.

Recording of contributions

17. The chief financial officer must record the details of all contributors and contributions accepted:

(a) on behalf of a registered political party or constituency association during a campaign period separately from those contributions accepted on behalf of the political party or constituency association during the year excluding the campaign period;

(b) on behalf of a registered candidate during any campaign period;

(c) on behalf of a registered leadership contestant during any leadership contest period; or,

(d) on behalf of a registered nomination contestant during any nomination contest period.

Return of contributions

18.

(1) Where any contribution accepted by or on behalf of a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant is in contravention of the Election Finances Act, the chief financial officer must, within thirty days of so learning, return to the contributor an amount equal to the sum contributed.

(2) Any such contribution not returned to the contributor or any anonymous contribution accepted by a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must not be used for any other purpose and must be paid to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Public disclosure

19. It is recommended that contributors donating more than $200 be notified that their names and addresses will be recorded and submitted with the financial statements, and that their names and amounts will be published by Elections Ontario on the Elections Ontario website.

20. The amount and name of the contributor of any monetary contribution recorded by a registered political party or leadership contestant that has a total exceeding $200 from a single source must be disclosed to the Chief Electoral Officer within 15 business days of deposit.

4. Tax Receipts

This guideline explains tax receipting by an eligible registered political entity: political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership contestant.

Tax receipts for a political party using an electronic database for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts

(1) Elections Ontario must assess and approve any electronic database before it can be used by a registered political party for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts

(2) If a registered political party is required or has chosen to maintain an electronic database for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts, section 8 of the Electronic Database Guidelines applies.

Obtaining tax receipts for a political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant

2. If a registered political party is not required to and has not opted to maintain an electronic database for recording contributions and issuing tax receipts, blank tax receipts must be supplied by the Chief Electoral Officer to chief financial officers upon request.

Eligibility of contributions for tax receipts

3. Every registered political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant must issue tax receipts in the form required or approved by the Chief Electoral Officer for every contribution accepted.

Issuing tax receipts

(1) Only the chief financial officer and persons authorized to accept contributions must issue tax receipts under their signatures for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant since it is their responsibility to ensure that all contributions allowed under the Election Finances Act are acknowledged by the issuance of tax receipts.

(2) Only the net amount of a donation that is treated as a contribution is eligible for a tax receipt.

Reporting of tax receipts

(1) The chief financial officer of a registered political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant must submit a copy of all issued tax receipts, cancelled and void tax receipts, and cancellation notices, to the Chief Electoral Officer.

(2) The chief financial officer must also submit to the Chief Electoral Officer a reconciliation of all tax receipts, which consists of all unused tax receipts at the commencement of the particular period, issued tax receipts, cancelled and voided tax receipts, lost and destroyed tax receipts, and those remaining at the end of the period.

Cancellation of tax receipts

(1) Any tax receipt issued for an ineligible contribution that will be or has been returned to the contributor must be cancelled after learning of its ineligibility by:

(a) retrieving the contributor's copy of the original receipt issued and after recovering the receipt, refunding the ineligible contribution to the contributor; or

(b) issuing a cancellation notice to the contributor within thirty days to cancel the original receipt and forwarding a copy of the cancellation notice to the contributor along with a refund cheque for the ineligible contribution.

(2) If the original receipt for cancellation cannot be retrieved and a cancellation notice cannot be issued, the amount of the contribution must be remitted to the Chief Electoral Officer.

5. Non-Contribution Income

This guideline explains non-contribution income: collection of money at general meetings, membership fees, and transfers.

Collection of money at a general meeting for a political party, constituency association or candidate

1. Where funds are raised at a general meeting for a registered political party, constituency association or candidate amounts of $10 or less may be given and are not considered to be contributions to the political party, constituency association or candidate.

Annual membership fees for a political party or constituency association

(1) An annual membership fee paid for membership in a registered political party and/or constituency association must be treated as a contribution unless:

(a) the total fee paid to the political party or constituency association in aggregate does not exceed $25; and

(b) the political party or constituency association maintains a membership list indicating the amount of fees paid by each member.

(2) Pricing of membership categories and treatment of those categories either as a contribution or not must be consistent.

Transfer of funds, goods and services

The following text explains allowable and prohibited transfers.

Allowable transfers for a political party, constituency association, leadership contestant or candidate

3.

(1) A registered political party, its constituency associations or its candidates may transfer or accept funds, goods and services.

(2) A registered independent member's constituency association or its candidate may transfer or accept funds, goods and services.

(3) A registered political party and its leadership contestants may transfer or accept funds, goods and services.

(4) All such funds, goods and services accepted must not be considered contributions but their source must be recorded.

Allowable transfers between a political party and a federal political party

(1) A registered political party may accept funds from a registered federal political party only during a provincial campaign period and only up to $100 for each registered candidate endorsed by that political party. Such funds must be considered transfers and not contributions.

(2) A registered political party may transfer funds to a registered federal political party only during a federal election and only up to $100 for each candidate in a federal electoral district in Ontario who is endorsed as a candidate by that federal party.

Prohibited transfers and contributions for a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant

(1) A registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must not directly or indirectly contribute or transfer funds to:

(a) any candidate in a municipal election under the Municipal Elections Act, 1996; or

(b) any federal party, constituency association or candidate at a federal election; or

(c) any federal nomination contestant or leadership contestant.

(2) A registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must not transfer funds to an unregistered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant.

Prohibited transfers and contributions between a constituency association and a leadership contestant
6. A registered constituency association must not directly or indirectly contribute or transfer funds to, or accept funds from, a registered leadership contestant.

6. Fund-raising

This guideline explains fund-raising events, related contribution treatments and reporting requirements.

1. Fund-raising events are events held for the purpose of raising monies for a registered party, constituency association, nomination contestant, candidate or leadership contestant registered under this Act by whom or on whose behalf the event is held, and where a charge by the sale of tickets or otherwise is made for attendance.

Information to be included in materials for a fund-raising event
2. The name of the registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant sponsoring a fund-raising event must be clearly displayed on all materials distributed for that event. This includes any solicitation for contributions.

Information to be posted on party website for fund-raising events 3.

(1) Every registered party to which section 25.1 applies must post on its website the following information respecting every fund-raising event to be held by or on behalf of the party, its constituency associations and candidates:

(a) the date of the fund-raising event;

(b) the location of the fund-raising event;

(c) the amount of the charge for attending the fund-raising event; and

(d) the identity of the recipient or recipients of the funds to be raised at the fund-raising event.

(2) The registered party must post the information described above at least three days before the date of the fund-raising event.

(3) The Chief Electoral Officer has directed that the posting of the name of the town or city in which a fund-raising event is to be held as the location of the event is sufficient to satisfy the requirements of this section of the Act.

Net value of a contribution
4. For purposes of recording contributions and issuing tax receipts for a fund-raising event where required, if:

(a) an eligible contributor provides a donation; and

(b) receives back a rebate in the form of money or of goods

then the value of this rebate must be subtracted from the amount of the contributor's donation to arrive at the net amount of the contribution. This net amount determines the tax receipt amount that must be issued where required. Only the net amount of the donation must be treated as a contribution.

Fund-raising ticket sales up to $30 above cost may not be treated as a contribution
5. A registered political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant holding a fund-raising activity has the option of considering an additional portion of the ticket price, up to a maximum of $30 per ticket above the direct costs of the fund-raising activity, not to be a contribution.

Goods and services supplied for a fund-raising event

(1) The value of goods and services supplied for a fund-raising event is deemed to be the fair market value for similar goods or services.

(2) Goods and services supplied for a fund-raising event are considered to be a contribution if the aggregate value of all goods and services provided by a supplier is greater than $100, with the exception of voluntary unpaid labour and goods voluntarily produced by such labour.

Goods and services offered for sale at a fund-raising event 7.

(1) Any amount paid for goods or services, other than advertising services, offered for sale during a fund-raising event in excess of its fair market value must be considered a contribution.

(2) Any amount paid for advertising as a fund-raising activity must be a contribution.

Recording and disclosure of fund-raising

8. The gross income from each fund-raising event, separated between ticket sales and other income, must be recorded in the period the activity is held and reported to the Chief Electoral Officer with the financial statements.

7. Loans and Guarantees

This guideline explains loans and guarantees by a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Borrowing sources

1. A registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant must only borrow funds from:

(a) a financial institution; or

(b) a registered political party or constituency association.

Financial institution means,

(a) a bank or authorized foreign bank within the meaning of section 2 of the Bank Act (Canada),

(b) a corporation registered under the Loan and Trust Corporations Act,

(c) a credit union within the meaning of the Credit Unions and Caisses Populaires Act, 2020, or

(d) a retail association as defined under the Cooperative Credit Associations Act (Canada).

2. No person, including a candidate, is permitted to make a loan.

3. Any delay in paying suppliers or other liabilities may be deemed to be a loan from an ineligible source by the Chief Electoral Officer.

When to receive a loan?

The following text explains the timing of loans for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership or nomination contestant.

Timing for a political party or constituency association

4. A registered political party or constituency association may borrow at any time as part of its ongoing regular operations.

Timing for a candidate

5. A candidate may borrow only during the campaign period and once he or she is registered with the Chief Electoral Officer.

Timing for a leadership or nomination contestant

6. A leadership or nomination contestant may borrow for the leadership or nomination contest only after he or she is registered with the Chief Electoral Officer.

Guarantees and collateral security

(1) A political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant may only receive support in the form of a guarantee or collateral security from:

(a) an entity entitled to make a loan; or

(b) a person entitled to make a contribution.

(2) A guarantee is considered a contribution for the purposes of this Act, and contribution requirements and limits apply. But a guarantee is not receipt-able until it is paid. Therefore, the limit on a guarantee for a new loan is the current contribution limit, which is applied to the guarantor's annual contribution limit.

Loans as contributions

(1) A loan to a political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant is not considered a contribution, except as follows:

(a) If the financial institution waives the right to recover the loan, the amount waived is considered a contribution subject to the contribution limits; or

(b) If the loan is made at an interest rate lower than the applicable market rate, the interest forgone by the financial institution (the difference between the actual interest charged and the market rate) is considered a contribution and is subject to the contribution limits.

(2) If the borrower defaults on a loan, the financial obligation of the registered political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant is transferred to the guarantor. If the guarantor waives the right to recover all or partial payment from the principal debtor, the amount waived by the guarantor is considered a contribution to the political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant and is subject to the contribution limits. Terms of repayment must be reported to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Time Limits – loans and guarantees

9. Every political party, constituency association, candidate, leadership or nomination contestant that receives a loan must repay the loan in full no more than two years from:

   (a) in the case of a nomination contestant, the date that a candidate is selected for the electoral district for the nomination contestant's party;

   (b) in the case of a leadership contestant, the date that a leader is selected for the contestant's party;

   (c) in the case of a candidate, polling day; or

   (d) in the case of a party or constituency association, the day that the loan is due according to its terms.

No person must guarantee the loan for a period longer than the applicable period.

Responsibility for payment of candidate's deficit

10. A registered political party or constituency association must assume any deficit remaining from the campaign of a registered candidate endorsed as the official candidate of that political party or constituency association. The political party or constituency association must be responsible for ensuring that any borrowing is repaid.

Reporting of loans

11. Information regarding any borrowings by a political party, constituency association, candidate or leadership contestant must be reported to the Chief Electoral Officer as part of the financial statements.

8. Political Advertising

This guideline explains political advertising: the authorization requirements, and the blackout period and survey restrictions for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, third party or any person; and the spending limit for a political party.

Definition

1. Political advertising is defined as advertising or communications in any broadcast, print, electronic, or other medium with the purpose of promoting or opposing any registered political party or its leader or the election of a registered candidate. Political advertising includes advertisements in newspapers, journals, and magazines; promotion on TV and radio; and advertisements placed on lawn signs, billboards, bus shelters, and the Internet (including websites, blogs, and social networking sites), etc.

   The definition of "political advertising" encompasses election-related advertising or communications that are expressly or impliedly directed to political parties or their leaders, candidates or platforms. It includes election-related advertising that takes a position on an issue of public policy that is closely associated with a registered party or its leader or a registered candidate in relation to an upcoming election (sometimes called "issue advertising").

   The Act restricts advertising that is expressly or impliedly related to an election, i.e. directed at parties and their leaders, candidates or platforms. On the other hand, the Act does not restrict public campaigns for or against particular legislative or policy initiatives which are not election-oriented, even when that advertising coincides with a regulated period for third party political advertising. In other words, issue advertising on matters of public importance that is not expressly or impliedly related to an election is not "political advertising" under the Act.

What is "closely associated"?

Determining whether a given issue is "closely associated" with a party, its leader, or a candidate will depend on which issues are likely to be addressed in the upcoming election campaign, or which are distinctly associated with a particular party, leader, or candidate in the public discourse, such that advertising relating to that issue is in effect an indirect advertisement for or against that party, leader, or candidate. A party's own advertising, election platform, and talking points will all be relevant considerations in determining whether an issue is "closely associated" to a party, its leader, or a candidate.

Whether issue advertising is election-oriented depends on the purpose for which the advertisement was placed. If the purpose of the advertising is to influence the outcome of an election, then the advertising falls within the definition of "political advertising". If the purpose of the advertising is to promote a pre-existing advocacy campaign, it is less likely that this will be viewed as political advertising. Where an advertisement may have more than one purpose, the Chief Electoral Officer considers whether the main purpose of the advertisement is related to an election.

In determining whether advertising (including issue advertising) is "political advertising" the Chief Electoral Officer considers the following criteria:

(a) whether it is reasonable to conclude that the advertising was specifically planned to coincide with the period referred to in Spending Limits section;

(b) whether the formatting or branding of the advertisement is similar to a registered political party's or registered candidate's formatting or branding or election material;

(c) whether the advertising makes reference to the election, election day, voting day, or similar terms;

(d) whether the advertisement makes reference to a registered political party or registered candidate either directly or indirectly;

(e) whether there is a material increase in the normal volume of advertising conducted by the person, organization, or entity;

(f) whether the advertising has historically occurred during the relevant time of the year;

(g) whether the advertising is consistent with previous advertising conducted by the person, organization, or entity;

(h) whether the advertising is within the normal parameters of promotion of a specific program or activity; and

(i) whether the content of the advertisement is similar to the political advertising of a party, constituency association, nomination contestant, candidate or leadership contestant registered under the Act.

The Chief Electoral Officer also considers any other relevant factors that may indicate that a particular advertisement is or is not related to an upcoming election.

While the Chief Electoral Officer will consider all of the circumstances relevant to any given advertisement, the Chief Electoral Officer considers it highly significant if the advertising includes any reference to the election, election day, voting day, or similar terms; or (ii) to a registered political party, its leader, or registered candidate (either directly or indirectly). Advertising that includes such references will generally constitute political advertising.

What is not political advertising?
Political Advertising does not include:

(a) the transmission to the public of an editorial, a debate, a speech, an interview, a column, a letter, a commentary or news;

(b) the distribution of a book, or the promotion of the sale of a book, for no less than its commercial value, if the book was planned to be made available to the public regardless of whether there was to be an election;

(c) communication in any form directly by a person, group, corporation or trade union to their members, employees or shareholders, as the case may be;

(d) the transmission by an individual, on a non-commercial basis on the Internet, of his or her personal political views; or

(e) the making of telephone calls to electors only to encourage them to vote.

Authorization on political advertising
(1) All pre-writ advertising sponsored or paid for by a registered political party or constituency association must name the registered political party or constituency association who is sponsoring or paying for it.

(2) All advertising appearing during the campaign period must name the registered political party, constituency association, candidate, third party or any person sponsoring or paying for it.

Restrictions on political advertising during blackout period 3.
(1) No registered political party, constituency association, candidate or third party must conduct paid commercial political advertising during a blackout period. Paid commercial political advertising excludes the official internet website of a registered political party, registered constituency association or registered candidate, or their authorized lawn signs, pamphlets, mass or individual mailings, automated or individual telephone calls, or social media communications.

(2) A blackout period includes the day before polling day and polling day for all elections.

(3) The following are exceptions of political advertising allowed during a blackout period:

(a) genuine news reporting, including interviews, commentaries, or other works prepared for and published by any newspaper, magazine, or other periodical publication in any medium without any charge to the registered political party, constituency association, candidate or third party. A broadcaster may similarly broadcast genuine news stories; however, these are subject to the provisions of and regulations and guidelines under the Broadcasting Act (Canada);

(b) the publication of political advertising, on polling day or the day before polling day, in a newspaper that is published once a week or less often and whose regular day of publication falls on that day;

(c) a political advertisement on the internet or in a similar electronic medium, if posted before and not altered or further distributed during a blackout period;

(d) a registered political party's, constituency association's, or candidate's official website, including edits and updates to the website; and

(e) a political advertisement in the form of a poster or billboard, if posted before and not altered during a blackout period, such as advertisements on public transit buses, bus shelters, and subway stations.

Restrictions on election surveys
4. No person, corporation, trade union, registered political party, constituency association or third party must publish, broadcast or transmit to the public, in an electoral district on polling day before the close of all the polling stations in that electoral district, the results of an election survey that have not previously been made available to the public

9. Campaign Expenses

This guideline explains campaign periods, and the related expenses and limits for a political party, constituency association and candidate.

Meaning of campaign expenses
(1) A campaign expense is any expense incurred for goods or services in relation to an election by or on behalf of a registered political party, constituency association or candidate for use in whole or in part during the period commencing at the start of the campaign period and terminating on polling day.

(2) A campaign expense includes the value of any goods held in inventory or prepaid expenses for services for any registered candidate or political party, and any contribution of goods and services to the registered political party, constituency association or candidate for use in whole or in part during the period commencing at the start of the campaign period and terminating on polling day.

(3) The campaign period begins when the writ(s) of an election is issued and ends three months after polling day.

Campaign expense limit
The following text explains the campaign expense limit for a political party, and the joint limit for a candidate and the endorsing constituency association.

Number of electors for determining campaign expense limit

2. The number of electors, for purposes of determining the limit on campaign expenses for a registered political party or candidate and constituency association, is defined as the greater of:

(a) the number of electors shown in the preliminary list of electors provided to candidates; and

(b) the number of electors entitled to vote as determined by the Chief Electoral Officer after polling day.

Campaign expense limit for a political party
3. The total campaign expenses incurred by a registered political party and anyone acting on behalf of the political party during a campaign period must not exceed the amount determined by the Chief Electoral Officer. The amount is calculated by multiplying the number of electors in each electoral district in which there is an official candidate of the political party by an indexed amount specified under section 38(2) of the Election Finances Act for the calendar year and rounded to the nearest cent.

Joint campaign expense limit for a candidate and constituency association

(1) The joint campaign expense limit of a registered candidate together with the registered constituency association endorsing that candidate must not exceed the amount that is determined by the Chief Electoral Officer. This is calculated by multiplying the number of electors in the candidate's electoral district by an indexed amount specified under section 38(3.1) of the Election Finances Act for the calendar year and rounded to the nearest cent.

(2) In the case of registered candidates in the electoral districts of Algoma-Manitoulin, Kenora-Rainy River, Kiiwetinoong, Mushkegowuk-James Bay, Nickel Belt, Thunder Bay-Atikokan, Thunder Bay-Superior North, and Timiskaming-Cochrane, the joint campaign expense limit is increased by a further indexed amount specified under section 38(3.4) of the Election Finances Act for the calendar year and rounded to the nearest cent.

(3) The total campaign expense incurred by a registered candidate includes expenses incurred by a registered political party acting on behalf of the candidate.

Campaign expenses not subject to campaign expense limit
5. Campaign expenses not subject to the campaign expense limit are:

(a) expenses incurred by a candidate in seeking nomination in accordance with the Election Act;

(b) expenses incurred by a registered candidate with disabilities that are directly related to the candidate's disabilities;

(c) auditor's and accounting fees;

(d) interest on authorized loans;

(e) expenses incurred in holding a fund-raising event;

(f) expenses incurred for victory parties held and "thank you" advertising published after polling day;

(g) expenses incurred relating to the administration of a registered political party or constituency association;

(h) authorized transfers;

(i) fees paid for maintaining a credit card facility;

(j) expenses relating to a recount in respect of the election;

(k) child care expenses of a registered candidate;

(l) expenses relating to research and polling;

(m) travel expenses; and

(n) expenses incurred during the period from the day after polling day to the end of the campaign period.

Approval by candidate's chief financial officer of constituency association's spending on campaign expenses
6. A registered candidate's chief financial officer must state in writing to a registered constituency association endorsing that candidate the aggregate amount the constituency association may spend during a campaign. No registered constituency association must spend in excess of this amount without written approval by the candidate's chief financial officer.

Submission of payment claims to a political party, constituency association or candidate

7. Every person, corporation or trade union who has any claim for payment in relation to a campaign expense must submit such claim within three months after polling day to the chief financial officer of the registered political party, constituency association or candidate to which the expense relates.

10. Public Funding of Expenses

This guideline explains the political party and candidate reimbursements, and political party and constituency association quarterly allowances.

Popular vote for determining reimbursement for a political party or candidate

1. The popular vote, for purposes of determining the reimbursement for a registered political party or candidate, is defined as the total ballots cast in an electoral district excluding those rejected, cancelled, declined or unused.

Conditions for reimbursement entitlement for a political party or candidate

(1) A registered political party or candidate is not entitled to a reimbursement unless the campaign period financial statements have been filed and the Chief Electoral Officer is satisfied that the political party or candidate meets the requirements of the Election Finances Act.

(2) For a registered candidate to be entitled to a reimbursement, the registered constituency association endorsing the candidate, if any, must also have satisfactorily filed its annual and campaign period financial statements.

Political party reimbursement

The following text explains the reimbursement entitlement and payments for a political party.

Reimbursement of a political party's expenses

3.

(1) A registered political party is entitled to be reimbursed by the Chief Electoral Officer in each electoral district where its registered candidates receive at least 15 percent of the popular vote.

(2) For each electoral district in which the political party is eligible for reimbursement, the amount of the reimbursement must be the lesser of the total campaign expenses incurred and the amount determined by multiplying 5¢ by the number of electors entitled to vote in that electoral district.

Interim payment of reimbursement to a political party

4. The Chief Electoral Officer may, on receiving the financial statements and auditor's report, make an interim payment of up to 50 percent of the reimbursement amount to which a registered political party will be entitled once the Chief Electoral Officer is satisfied that the requirements of the Election Finances Act are met.

Candidate reimbursement

The following text explains the reimbursement entitlement, and surplus or deficit treatment for a candidate.

Partial reimbursement of a candidate's campaign expenses

5.

(1) Every registered candidate who receives at least 5 percent of the popular vote in his or her electoral district is entitled to be reimbursed by the Chief Electoral Officer for the lesser of:

(a) 20 percent of the campaign expenses of the candidate and registered constituency association endorsing the candidate for the campaign period, as shown on the campaign period statement of income and expenses filed with the Chief Electoral Officer; and

(b) 20 percent of the campaign expense limit to which the candidate and constituency association are subject.

(2) For registered candidates in the electoral districts of Algoma-Manitoulin, Kenora-Rainy River, Kiiwetinoong, Mushkegowuk-James Bay, Nickel Belt, Thunder Bay-Atikokan, Thunder Bay-Superior North, and Timiskaming-Cochrane, the amount of reimbursement is increased by an indexed amount specified under section 38(3.4) of the Election Finances Act for the calendar year and rounded to the nearest cent.

It must be noted that the amount of the candidate reimbursement will not exceed the amount spent on campaign expenses.

Deficit in a candidate's account

6. Where a registered candidate's financial statements show a deficit, the deficit must be treated as follows:

(a) First, any reimbursement that the candidate is entitled to must be applied to reduce the deficit; then

(b) Any remaining deficit must, in the case of a candidate endorsed by a registered political party, be assumed by the registered constituency association endorsing that candidate.

Surplus in a candidate's account

7. Any surplus, determined by taking into account a registered candidate's financial statements and any partial reimbursement that the candidate is entitled to, must be immediately paid:

(a) in the case of a candidate endorsed by a registered political party, to the political party or to the registered constituency association endorsing that candidate; or

(b) in the case of an independent candidate,

(i) to their registered constituency association, if the candidate has been elected as an independent member and has endorsed a registered constituency association, or

(ii) to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Political Party Quarterly Allowance
The following text explains the quarterly allowance eligibility and calculation for a political party.

Eligibility Requirement
8. A party is eligible to receive a quarterly allowance if, in the last general election, it received:

(a) 2% of valid votes cast province wide, or

(b) 5% of valid votes cast in an electoral district where the party ran a candidate.

Calculation of Quarterly Allowance
9. The allowance paid in each quarter is calculated by multiplying the quarterly rate by the number of valid votes a party's candidates received in the previous general election. The quarterly rate is $0.636.

Constituency Association Quarterly Allowance
The following text explains the quarterly allowance eligibility and calculation for a constituency association.

Eligibility Requirement
10. A constituency association is eligible to receive a quarterly allowance if:

(a) in the last election, its candidate received at least 2% of the valid votes cast in that electoral district, and

(b) all documents that it was required to file with Elections Ontario in the four-year period immediately before the quarter have been filed and are complete.

11. For an independent member's constituency association, if the independent member is re-elected, an amount is payable to the member's registered constituency association based on the percentage of the total number of valid votes the member received as a candidate in the electoral district at the most recent election. In addition, if the independent member was elected as a candidate of a registered party, the registered constituency association of the registered party remains entitled to the amount it would otherwise receive.

Calculation of Quarterly Allowance
12. A quarterly allowance is assigned to each electoral district which is shared amongst qualifying associations based on the percentage of the valid votes their candidate received in the last election. The quarterly allowance for each electoral district is $4879.17.

11. Financial Statements

This guideline explains the required financial statements for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, or leadership contestant, and the consequences for the failure to file.

When is an audit required?
1. A CFO must file audited financial statements for reporting periods where at least $10,000 in contributions was accepted or expenses of at least $10,000 were incurred.

Content and filing date
The following text explains the reporting periods and required annual, campaign, and contest period financial statements or declarations for a registered political party, constituency association, candidate, and leadership contestant.

Annual financial statements for a political party or constituency association
2. The chief financial officer of a registered political party or constituency association must file signed, annual financial statements and supporting documentation with the Chief Electoral Officer on or before May 31 of each following year:

(a) for the political party, excluding the income and expenses relating to an election received or incurred in a campaign period; or

(b) for the constituency association, excluding all income and expenses received or incurred in a campaign period.

Campaign period definition
3. The campaign period begins when the writ of election is issued and ends three months after polling day.

Campaign period financial statements for a political party, constituency association or candidate
4. The chief financial officer of a registered political party, constituency association or candidate must file signed campaign period financial statements and supporting documentation with the Chief Electoral Officer within six months after polling day:

(a) for the political party, of only the income and expenses relating to the election received or incurred in the campaign period; or

(b) for the constituency association or candidate, of all income and expenses received or incurred in the campaign period.

5. In relation to a by-election, a political party or constituency association may file a declaration that no contributions or expenses relating to the by-election were received or incurred. This replaces the requirement to file campaign period financial statements.

Leadership contest period financial statements for a leadership contestant

6. The chief financial officer of a registered leadership contestant must make two separate filings of signed leadership contest period financial statements with the Chief Electoral Officer:

   (a) The first statement must be filed within six months after the date of the leadership vote and includes the period from the date of the official call, or the date of registration, whichever is earlier, for the leadership contest to two months after the date of the leadership vote.

   (b) The second statement must be filed within twenty months after the date of the leadership vote and includes the twelve-month period that begins two months after the date of the leadership vote.

   (c) The $10,000 threshold for audit is a cumulative threshold and should not be treated separately for each reporting period.

Surplus for a leadership contestant

7. Any surplus shown in the second statement filed by a registered leadership contestant must be paid to the registered political party that held the leadership contest.

Deficit for a leadership contestant

8. Any deficit shown in the second statement filed by a registered leadership contestant must require filing of a separate schedule listing unpaid debts and a statement of how these debts must be discharged. Money used to discharge the campaign deficits of leadership contestants will be treated as a contribution and the contribution restrictions set out in the Election Finances Act apply.

9. Where a registered political party agrees to pay these debts, a letter must be forwarded with this filing signed by a party official which clearly confirms this undertaking.

Failure to file financial statements for a political party or constituency association

10. Where the chief financial officer of a registered political party or constituency association fails to file any part of the annual or campaign period financial statements, the political party or constituency association may be deregistered.

Failure to file financial statements for a candidate or leadership contestant

11. Where the chief financial officer of a registered candidate or leadership contestant who is not elected fails to file any part of the financial statements, the candidate or leadership contestant must be ineligible to stand as a candidate at any election up to and including the next general election until the complete financial statements are filed with the Chief Electoral Officer.

12. Where the chief financial officer of an elected candidate or leadership contestant fails to file any part of the financial statements, the Chief Electoral Officer must notify the Speaker, who must inform the Assembly, and the candidate or leadership contestant may lose his or her seat in the Assembly.

12. Third Parties

This guideline explains third party political advertising, restrictions, the requirement and process to register, contributions, transfers, expenses and spending limits, collusion, and reporting requirements.

Definitions

1. Political advertising is defined as advertising or communications in any broadcast, print, electronic, or other medium with the purpose of promoting or opposing any registered political party or its leader or the election of a registered candidate. Political advertising includes advertisements in newspapers, journals, and magazines; promotion on TV and radio; and advertisements placed on lawn signs, billboards, bus shelters, and the Internet (including websites, blogs, and social networking sites), etc.

   The definition of "political advertising" encompasses election-related advertising or communications that are expressly or impliedly directed to political parties or their leaders, candidates or platforms. It includes election-related advertising that takes a position on an issue of public policy that is closely associated with a registered party or its leader or a registered candidate in relation to an upcoming election (sometimes called "issue advertising").

   The Act restricts advertising that is expressly or impliedly related to an election, i.e. directed at parties and their leaders, candidates or platforms. On the other hand, the Act does not restrict public campaigns for or against particular legislative or policy initiatives which are not election-oriented, even when that advertising coincides with a regulated period for third party political advertising. In other words, issue advertising on matters of public importance that is not expressly or impliedly related to an election is not "political advertising" under the Act.

What is "closely associated"?

2. Determining whether a given issue is "closely associated" with a party, its leader, or a candidate will depend on which issues are likely to be addressed in the upcoming election campaign, or which are distinctly associated with a particular party, leader, or candidate in the public discourse, such that advertising relating to that issue is in effect an indirect advertisement for or against that party, leader, or candidate. A party's own advertising, election platform, and talking points will all be relevant considerations in determining whether an issue is "closely associated" to a party, its leader, or a candidate.

   Whether issue advertising is election-oriented depends on the purpose for which the advertisement was placed. If the purpose of the advertising is to influence the outcome of an election, then the advertising falls within the definition of "political advertising". If the purpose of the advertising is to promote a pre-existing advocacy campaign, it is less likely that this will be viewed as political advertising. Where an advertisement may have more than one purpose, the Chief Electoral Officer considers whether the main purpose of the advertisement is related to an election.

3. In determining whether advertising (including issue advertising) is "political advertising" the Chief Electoral Officer considers the following criteria:

   (a) whether it is reasonable to conclude that the advertising was specifically planned to coincide with the period referred to in Spending Limits section;

(b) whether the formatting or branding of the advertisement is similar to a registered political party's or registered candidate's formatting or branding or election material;

(c) whether the advertising makes reference to the election, election day, voting day, or similar terms;

(d) whether the advertisement makes reference to a registered political party or registered candidate either directly or indirectly;

(e) whether there is a material increase in the normal volume of advertising conducted by the person, organization, or entity;

(f) whether the advertising has historically occurred during the relevant time of the year;

(g) whether the advertising is consistent with previous advertising conducted by the person, organization, or entity;

(h) whether the advertising is within the normal parameters of promotion of a specific program or activity; and

(i) whether the content of the advertisement is similar to the political advertising of a party, constituency association, nomination contestant, candidate or leadership contestant registered under the Act.

The Chief Electoral Officer also considers any other relevant factors that may indicate that a particular advertisement is or is not related to an upcoming election.

While the Chief Electoral Officer will consider all of the circumstances relevant to any given advertisement, the Chief Electoral Officer considers it highly significant if the advertising includes any reference to the election, election day, voting day, or similar terms; or to a registered political party, its leader, or registered candidate (either directly or indirectly). Advertising that includes such references will generally constitute political advertising.

What is not political advertising?

4. Political Advertising does not include:

(a) the transmission to the public of an editorial, a debate, a speech, an interview, a column, a letter, a commentary or news;

(b) the distribution of a book, or the promotion of the sale of a book, for no less than its commercial value, if the book was planned to be made available to the public regardless of whether there was to be an election;

(c) communication in any form directly by a person, group, corporation or trade union to their members, employees or shareholders, as the case may be;

(d) the transmission by an individual, on a non-commercial basis on the Internet, of his or her personal political views; or

(e) the making of telephone calls to electors only to encourage them to vote.

(1) "Third party political advertising" means political advertising placed by or on behalf of a third party, and "third party political advertisement" has a corresponding meaning.

(2) "Third party political advertising expense" means an expense incurred in relation to:

(a) the production of a third party political advertisement, or

(b) the acquisition of the means of transmission of a third party political advertisement to the public.

This does not include the Government of Canada, the Government of Ontario, the government of another province or territory of Canada, or the government of a municipality, or by any part of such a government.

7. "Election period" means the period commencing with the issuance of the writ for an election and terminating on polling day.

(3) The following are exceptions of third party political advertising allowed during a blackout period:

(a) genuine news reporting, including interviews, commentaries, or other works prepared for and published by any newspaper, magazine, or other periodical publication in any medium without any charge to the registered third party. A broadcaster may similarly broadcast genuine news stories; however, these are subject to the provisions of and regulations and guidelines under the Broadcasting Act (Canada);

(b) the publication of third party political advertising, on polling day or the day before polling day, in a newspaper that is published once a week or less often and whose regular day of publication falls on that day;

Effective date of registration

19. The Chief Electoral Officer must register a third party upon approval of the completed Third Party Registration and Change Notice Form.

(2) A third party that files an application for registration by registered mail after the day a writ is issued is considered to have been registered the day it is mailed, providing the application is complete and approved by the Chief Electoral Officer.

Notification to the Chief Electoral Officer when chief financial officers or auditors change

21. Among other requirements when registration information changes, if the chief financial officer or auditor ceases to hold office for a registered third party, another chief financial officer or auditor must immediately be appointed and an amended Third Party Registration and Change Notice Form containing the name and contact information of the new chief financial officer or auditor must be filed immediately.

Crowdfunding, or crowdsourcing, through the internet for contributions is also permitted, provided that the proceeds are accompanied by information that allows the CFO to trace and track contributions from individual donors. If for any reason a CFO cannot facilitate the collection of this information for crowdfunded proceeds, then it should not accept contributions through these means. Contributions must be from eligible contributors, using their own funds, and within the contribution limits.

Where there is a processing fee, the full amount sent by a contributor is the contribution amount and the processing fee is an expense.

Goods and services contributions

27.

(1) Goods or services accepted by a registered third party may be considered a contribution if the goods and services are valued in excess of $100 they are considered a contribution and must be recorded.

(a) the goods are produced by voluntary labour which are not paid for by the registered third party; or

(b) the aggregate value of all goods and services provided by the donor in a calendar year is $100 or less, and the donor indicates that the value is not to be considered a contribution.

(3) The value of goods and services supplied is deemed to be fair market value for similar goods or services at the time of their provision.

Goods and services provided for a price less than fair market value

Reporting on Third Party Political Advertising Final Report
38. The chief financial officer of a registered third party must file a final political advertising report and supporting documentation with the Chief Electoral Officer within six months after polling day for the income and expenses relating to the third party's political advertising.

39. The reporting period is in a by-election or general election, the period commencing with the issuance of the writ for an election and terminating three months after polling day.

Lignes directrices relatives à la Loi sur le financement des élections

Les présentes lignes directrices, établies par le directeur général des élections, remplacent toutes les lignes directrices antérieures parues dans la Gazette de l'Ontario avant janvier 2026. Elles décrivent l'approche générale du directeur général des élections concernant les questions régies par la Loi sur le financement des élections. Elles ne visent pas à définir de manière contraignante comment le directeur général des élections exercera son pouvoir discrétionnaire dans chaque affaire. En cas de conflit entre les présentes lignes directrices et la Loi sur le financement des élections, c'est cette dernière qui prévaut.

Dans le présent document, le masculin à valeur générique est utilisé à la seule fin d'alléger le texte : il renvoie aussi bien aux femmes qu'aux hommes.

1. Interdiction d'activités préalables à l'inscription

Les présentes lignes directrices expliquent quelles sont les activités interdites avant l'inscription d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat, d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou d'un candidat à l'investiture.

Activités d'un parti politique ou d'une association de circonscription préalables à l'inscription

1. Un parti politique ou une association de circonscription ne doit pas participer à des activités financières à des fins politiques, à l'exclusion de la perception des cotisations de 25 $ ou moins, avant de s'inscrire auprès du directeur général des élections. Les activités financières comprennent, entre autres, l'acceptation de contributions et l'engagement de dépenses.

Activités d'un candidat avant l'inscription

2. Un candidat ne doit pas participer à des activités financières à des fins politiques avant de s'inscrire auprès du directeur général des élections. Les activités financières comprennent, entre autres, l'acceptation de contributions et l'engagement de dépenses.

Activités d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti avant l'inscription

3. Une personne qui envisage la possibilité de participer à la campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti (aussi appelée « course à la direction ») peut participer à des activités financières pour payer les coûts liés à la faisabilité de sa participation à ladite campagne. Une fois la phase de réflexion terminée, une personne qui se porte effectivement candidate à la direction d'un parti ne doit pas participer à des activités financières dans le cadre de la campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti jusqu'à son inscription auprès du directeur général des élections une fois que la campagne est déclenchée.

Activités d'un candidat à l'investiture avant l'inscription

4. Un candidat à l'investiture doit s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario pour pouvoir recevoir des contributions et financer ses activités politiques en période de course à l'investiture.

2. Inscription

Les présentes lignes directrices expliquent comment inscrire un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture en Ontario aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Inscription d'un nouveau parti politique

Cette section explique comment réserver le nom d'un parti politique et les deux processus permettant de satisfaire aux conditions de l'inscription : avoir au moins deux candidats à l'élection et présenter une pétition.

Réservation du nom d'un parti politique

1. Un parti politique qui souhaite s'inscrire auprès du directeur général des élections doit d'abord remplir le formulaire intitulé « Demande de réservation d'un nom de parti politique ». Ce formulaire doit être rempli dans son intégralité et être présenté au directeur général des élections.

Présentation et réservation du nom d'un parti politique

(1) Le directeur général des élections décide si le nom et l'abréviation ou le sigle sont acceptables aux fins de l'inscription, selon les critères suivants :

a) le nom et l'abréviation ou le sigle proposés ne doivent pas comprendre le terme « indépendant » ou « independent »

b) le nom et l'abréviation ou le sigle proposés ne doivent pas être semblables à ceux d'un autre parti politique ou d'une autre organisation politique au Canada

c) le nom et l'abréviation ou le sigle proposés ne doivent pas être malséants ou offensants

d) une personne ne doit pas réserver plusieurs noms, abréviations ou sigles

(2) Le nom et l'abréviation ou le sigle acceptables sont réservés pour une période d'un an à compter de la date de la décision du directeur général des élections.

Admissibilité d'un parti politique à l'inscription

3. Un parti politique peut s'inscrire auprès du directeur général des élections au moyen de l'un ou l'autre des deux processus suivants :

Processus 1 : Pendant une période de campagne électorale, en ayant deux candidats

Un parti politique qui souhaite s'inscrire pendant une élection générale (ou des élections partielles concomitantes) doit :

(i) s'il ne l'a pas déjà fait, présenter sa demande de réservation de nom au directeur général des élections au plus tard deux jours avant la clôture du dépôt des déclarations de candidature afin de prévoir un délai suffisant pour le processus d'inscription

(ii) déclarer et parrainer dans au moins deux circonscriptions électorales un candidat qui le représente

Processus 2 : En dehors d'une période de campagne électorale, par voie de pétition

À tout moment autre qu'une période de campagne électorale, un parti politique qui souhaite s'inscrire par voie de pétition doit recueillir 1 000 signatures d'électeurs ayant les qualités requises pour voter au moyen du formulaire intitulé « Demande d'inscription d'un parti politique ». Les signatures doivent être recueillies dans l'année qui suit la réservation du nom du parti. Il est interdit de recueillir des signatures sur plus d'une année. Après la période d'un an, les signatures deviennent périmées et ne doivent pas être utilisées dans la demande d'inscription.

Une pétition doit être présentée au moins deux mois avant une période de campagne électorale afin de prévoir un délai suffisant pour le processus d'inscription.

Déclenchement d'une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti et inscription d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti
Cette section explique comment s'inscrire en tant que candidat à la direction d'un parti en Ontario aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Exigences préalables à l'inscription
Les paragraphes qui suivent expliquent les exigences applicables à la tenue d'une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti et précisent quelles sont les activités interdites avant l'inscription des candidats à la direction d'un parti aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Tenue d'une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti
4. Le directeur général des élections définit une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti comme toute procédure par laquelle un parti politique inscrit élit son chef.

Un parti politique inscrit qui se propose de tenir une campagne de désignation du chef du parti doit déposer auprès d'Élections Ontario une déclaration indiquant la date du déclenchement officiel de la campagne de désignation du chef du parti et la date fixée pour la tenue du scrutin afférent.

Si une personne doit verser à un parti une redevance pour devenir candidate à la direction de ce parti, cette redevance ne saurait être considérée comme une contribution faite au parti. Néanmoins, les règles régissant les contributions s'appliquent de plein droit lorsqu'un candidat à la direction inscrit recueille des fonds pour payer ladite redevance. Les règles et les redevances internes aux campagnes organisées par un parti en vue d'en désigner le chef ne sont pas régies par Élections Ontario.

Activité financière avant l'inscription
5. Avant la date d'inscription, l'activité financière des personnes qui envisagent la possibilité de se porter candidates à la direction d'un parti n'est pas réglementée.

    a) Avant l'inscription, les fonds réunis pour des droits d'inscription ou des dépôts ne sont pas considérés comme des contributions versées à un candidat éventuel à la direction d'un parti. Par conséquent, les candidats éventuels peuvent recueillir ou utiliser des fonds particuliers pour payer des frais d'administration visant les droits d'inscription et les dépôts auprès du parti politique inscrit.

    b) Une fois la phase de réflexion terminée, les personnes qui se portent effectivement candidates à la direction d'un parti doivent s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario avant d'accepter des contributions et d'engager des dépenses. Une personne est réputée chercher à se faire élire comme chef d'un parti inscrit dès qu'elle engage des dépenses au titre de biens ou de services relativement à une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti ou accepte des contributions relativement à une telle campagne.

L'activité financière d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrit est réglementée à compter de la date d'inscription. Les règles relatives aux contributions s'appliquent.

Obligation de s'inscrire
6. Lorsque le poste de chef d'un parti inscrit est devenu vacant, toute personne qui cherche à se faire élire comme chef du parti inscrit est tenue de s'inscrire, même si le parti n'a pas officiellement déclenché de campagne en ce sens.

Toute personne est réputée chercher à se faire élire comme chef d'un parti inscrit dès qu'elle engage des dépenses au titre de biens ou de services relativement à une campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti ou qu'elle accepte des contributions relativement à une telle campagne.

Inscription d'une association de circonscription
Cette section explique comment inscrire une association de circonscription en Ontario aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Obligation de s'inscrire
7. Une association de circonscription doit s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario avant de pouvoir :

    a) recevoir des contributions et délivrer des récépissés aux donateurs

    b) financer ses activités politiques

Exigences préalables à l'inscription
Les paragraphes qui suivent précisent les exigences à satisfaire avant de soumettre un formulaire d'inscription d'une association de circonscription.

Nomination d'un directeur des finances
8. Une association de circonscription doit nommer un directeur des finances avant de s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario.

Conditions imposées par le parti politique
9. Une association de circonscription parrainée par un parti politique inscrit peut être assujettie aux conditions préalables à l'inscription que ce dernier impose. Consultez le parti politique pour prendre connaissance des conditions en vigueur.

État de l'actif et du passif
10. Dans le cadre de la demande d'inscription, le directeur des finances de l'association de circonscription doit fournir à Élections Ontario un état de l'actif et du passif dans les 90 jours suivant la date de la demande d'inscription.

Il n'est pas obligatoire de faire auditer l'état initial. Toutefois, le directeur des finances de l'association de circonscription doit l'attester et l'attestation doit être faite devant témoins.

Parrainage par le parti politique
11. Le parti politique inscrit qui parraine l'association de circonscription doit attester son parrainage dans le cadre de la demande d'inscription. Un responsable du parti doit signer le formulaire « Demande d'inscription d'une association de circonscription et avis de changement » ou, en cas de parrainage de plusieurs associations de circonscription, envoyer à Élections Ontario une lettre mentionnant le nom de l'association de circonscription parrainée par le parti.

Parrainage par un député indépendant

12. Le député indépendant qui parraine l'association de circonscription doit attester son parrainage dans le cadre de la demande d'inscription. Pour ce faire, il doit signer le formulaire « Demande d'inscription d'une association de circonscription et avis de changement ».

Déclenchement d'une course à l'investiture et inscription d'un candidat à l'investiture

Cette section explique comment s'inscrire en tant que candidat à l'investiture en Ontario aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Activités préalables à l'inscription

Les paragraphes qui suivent expliquent les exigences applicables à la tenue d'une course à l'investiture par un parti politique inscrit ou une association de circonscription inscrite.

Tenue d'une course à l'investiture

13. Un parti politique inscrit ou une association de circonscription inscrite qui se propose de tenir une course à l'investiture doit déposer auprès d'Élections Ontario une déclaration indiquant la date du déclenchement officiel de la course à l'investiture et la date fixée pour la tenue du scrutin (formulaire Avis de course à l'investiture).

Si une personne doit verser à un parti une redevance pour présenter sa candidature à l'investiture, cette redevance ne saurait être considérée comme une contribution faite au parti ou à l'association de circonscription. Néanmoins, une fois qu'une course est déclenchée, les règles régissant les contributions s'appliquent de plein droit lorsqu'un candidat à l'investiture recueille des fonds pour payer ladite redevance. Les règles et les redevances internes aux courses organisées par un parti ne sont pas régies par Élections Ontario.

Inscription d'un candidat à l'investiture

14. Les candidats à l'investiture doivent s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario afin de recevoir des contributions et de financer des activités politiques en période de course à l'investiture.

Les candidats à l'investiture doivent s'inscrire auprès d'Élections Ontario dès qu'Élections Ontario est avisé de la tenue de la course.

Inscription d'un candidat

Cette section explique comment s'inscrire en tant que candidat en Ontario aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Pour s'inscrire en vertu de la Loi sur le financement des élections, il faut déposer une Déclaration de candidature.

Avant une période électorale

15. La Déclaration de candidature peut être déposée auprès d'Élections Ontario à tout moment avant la période de candidature.

Au cours de la période de six mois précédant la publication du décret de convocation des électeurs, Élections Ontario délivrera, une fois la déclaration de candidature acceptée et approuvée, un Certificat de déclaration de candidature indiquant ce qui suit :

a) le candidat à l'élection sera qualifié de candidat doté d'une attestation préalable

b) après la publication du décret de convocation des électeurs, il sera qualifié de candidat inscrit

Un candidat doté d'une attestation préalable ne peut pas recevoir de contributions ni engager de dépenses avant que le décret de convocation des électeurs n'ait été publié et qu'il ne soit lui-même réputé inscrit.

Pendant une période électorale

16. La Déclaration de candidature peut être déposée auprès du directeur du scrutin de la circonscription électorale pendant la période de candidature.

Si la déclaration est approuvée, le directeur du scrutin remet un Certificat de déclaration de candidature.

Un candidat est dit inscrit à compter du jour de la délivrance du Certificat de déclaration de candidature.

Contenu de la demande et mode de dépôt

Cette section explique quel est le contenu d'une demande d'inscription pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture, et quels sont les modes de dépôt.

Contenu de la demande

17. Les exigences d'inscription sont énoncées dans le formulaire prescrit de demande d'inscription et d'avis de changement du parti politique, de l'association de circonscription, du candidat, du candidat à la direction d'un parti ou du candidat à l'investiture. En particulier, il faut fournir, au moment de la demande, des renseignements à jour sur les dirigeants et le directeur des finances de l'organisation postulante.

Nomination de l'auditeur

18. Un auditeur est une personne ou un cabinet dont les associés, résidents de l'Ontario, sont titulaires d'un permis délivré en vertu de la Loi de 2004 sur l'expertise comptable, à l'exclusion d'un directeur du scrutin, d'un scrutateur, d'un secrétaire du scrutin, d'un candidat, d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti et d'un directeur des finances d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou d'un candidat inscrits.

Partis politiques et associations de circonscription

Un parti politique ou une association de circonscription doit nommer un auditeur dans les 30 jours suivant la réception de contributions d'au moins 10 000 $ ou l'engagement de dépenses d'au moins 10 000 $ à l'égard d'une année civile ou d'une élection.

Candidats à la direction d'un parti

Un candidat à la direction d'un parti doit nommer un auditeur dans les 30 jours suivant la réception de contributions d'au moins 10 000 $ ou l'engagement de dépenses d'au moins 10 000 $ à l'égard de la campagne de désignation du chef du parti.

Cela inclut les contributions des fonds fiduciaires faites par le fiduciaire du fonds. Toutes les contributions sont assujetties au plafond des contributions en vigueur au moment où elles sont faites.

(2) Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti et un candidat à l'investiture inscrits ne doivent pas accepter de contributions anonymes.

(3) Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti et un candidat à l'investiture inscrits peuvent accepter des contributions à usage déterminé sous réserve qu'elles ne dérogent pas aux exigences ou aux limites prévues par la Loi sur le financement des élections.

(4) Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti et un candidat à l'investiture inscrits ne doivent pas accepter de contributions conditionnelles. Le donateur fait une contribution conditionnelle lorsqu'il impose une condition en demandant au bénéficiaire de lui donner en contrepartie un avantage matériel en plus d'un récépissé.

Donateurs admissibles à l'égard d'un parti politique ou d'une association de circonscription

2. Un parti politique inscrit ou une association de circonscription inscrite peut aussi accepter des contributions versées par la succession d'une personne décédée.

Toutefois, une organisation politique affiliée peut mener des activités de financement particulières avec le parrainage d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription ou d'un candidat, à condition que les fonds recueillis et un état des recettes et des dépenses pour chaque activité soient remis au directeur des finances approprié.

Types de contributions
Cette section contient des précisions sur les deux types de contributions, à savoir les contributions pécuniaires et les contributions non pécuniaires.

Contributions pécuniaires
8. Toute contribution pécuniaire supérieure à 25 $ faite à un parti politique, à une association de circonscription, à un candidat, à un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou à un candidat à l'investiture inscrits doit être versée en employant un mode de paiement moderne, de manière à confirmer le nom et le compte du donateur associés au paiement.

Le versement de contributions dans le cadre de campagnes de financement participatif (ou sociofinancement) sur Internet est également autorisé, sous réserve que les recettes perçues soient accompagnées de renseignements permettant au directeur des finances d'établir un suivi des contributions des différents donateurs. Si, pour une raison quelconque, le directeur des finances ne peut pas garantir la collecte de ces renseignements, les contributions provenant de campagnes de financement participatif ne doivent pas être acceptées. Les contributions doivent provenir de donateurs admissibles, être prélevées sur leurs fonds particuliers et respecter le plafond des contributions.

Dans les cas où des frais de traitement sont facturés, l'intégralité du montant versé par le donateur est considérée comme une contribution et les frais de traitement sont considérés comme une dépense.

Contributions non pécuniaires
Cette section contient des précisions sur les contributions non pécuniaires, à savoir les contributions en cryptomonnaies, les contributions sous forme de biens et de services et les contributions sous forme de publicité politique.

Cryptomonnaies
Les contributions en cryptomonnaies sont considérées comme des contributions non pécuniaires.

Les contributions en cryptomonnaies sont autorisées, sous réserve qu'elles soient accompagnées de renseignements permettant au directeur des finances de déterminer le donateur en question. Les contributions doivent provenir de donateurs admissibles, être prélevées sur leurs fonds particuliers et respecter le plafond des contributions.

Le montant de la contribution à comptabiliser correspond à la valeur commerciale de la cryptomonnaie en dollars canadiens au moment de la réception de la contribution, sur la base du taux de change réel ou du taux proposé par une plateforme d'échange de premier plan. Le montant de la contribution doit être comptabilisé comme contribution sous forme de biens et de services avec un compte de contrepartie d'actif. Tous les frais de transaction engagés doivent être comptabilisés comme une dépense.

Contributions sous forme de biens et de services

(1) Les biens ou les services acceptés par un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits peuvent constituer une contribution. Si leur valeur dépasse 100 $, ils constituent une contribution et doivent être consignés.

(2) Sont exclus des contributions les biens et les services suivants fournis à un parti politique, à une association de circonscription, à un candidat, à un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou à un candidat à l'investiture inscrits :

a) les articles fabriqués dans le cadre d'un travail bénévole non rémunéré par le parti politique, l'association de circonscription, le candidat, le candidat à la direction d'un parti ou le candidat à l'investiture inscrits

b) les biens et les services fournis par un donateur pendant une année civile, si leur valeur totale est égale ou inférieure à 100 $ et que le donateur indique que cette valeur ne constitue pas une contribution

(3) La valeur des biens et des services fournis est réputée correspondre à la juste valeur marchande de biens et de services semblables au moment où ils sont fournis.

Biens et services fournis à un prix inférieur à la juste valeur marchande

10. Si des biens et des services sont fournis à un parti politique, à une association de circonscription, à un candidat, à un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou à un candidat à l'investiture inscrits en contrepartie d'un prix qui est inférieur à la juste valeur marchande, la différence entre le prix et la valeur constitue une contribution.

Pièces justificatives des biens et services 11.

(1) Les contributions sous forme de biens et de services doivent être appuyées d'une facture du fournisseur.

(2) Un donateur qui fournit des services et qui considère tout ou partie des honoraires convenus comme une contribution doit présenter un relevé de compte indiquant le montant considéré comme une contribution à l'égard des services fournis.

Contribution sous forme de publicité
12.

(1) La publicité politique constitue une contribution si les conditions suivantes sont réunies :

a) elle favorise un parti inscrit, la désignation d'un candidat à l'investiture inscrit, l'élection d'un candidat inscrit ou la désignation d'un candidat à la direction inscrit

b) une personne, une organisation ou une entité la fournit ou prend des dispositions pour qu'elle soit fournie, en coordination avec le parti, le candidat ou le candidat à l'investiture ou à la direction, ou l'association de circonscription inscrite du candidat

c) sa valeur est supérieure à 100 $

(2) Ne constitue pas une contribution la publicité politique qui est fournie gratuitement par une entreprise de radiodiffusion conformément à la Loi sur la radiodiffusion (Canada).

Contributions acceptées par un parti politique pour le compte de ses associations de circonscription ou de ses candidats 13.

(1) Un parti politique inscrit peut accepter des contributions pécuniaires (mais non sous forme de biens et de services) pour le compte de ses associations de circonscription ou de ses candidats inscrits, auquel cas il doit leur remettre ces contributions « acceptées à titre de mandataire ».

(2) Les contributions peuvent uniquement être acceptées pour le compte d'un candidat inscrit pendant la période de campagne électorale.

(3) Avant que les contributions soient acceptées pour le compte d'une association de circonscription inscrite ou d'un candidat inscrit, un parti politique inscrit doit établir un compte en fiducie général dans une institution financière pour toutes les contributions acceptées à titre de mandataire devant être déposées et fournir au directeur général des élections le nom et l'adresse de l'institution financière, et les noms des signataires autorisés.

Possibilité de comptabiliser les droits de participation à certaines réunions comme des contributions

(1) Les fonds versés à un parti politique inscrit ou à une association de circonscription inscrite en paiement des droits de participation aux réunions, aux séminaires, aux ateliers ou aux conférences qui sont parrainés par le parti ou l'association et qui ont lieu en Ontario peuvent être considérés comme des contributions et donnent lieu à un récépissé, sous réserve du plafond applicable aux contributions.

(2) La participation à de telles manifestations faisant partie du processus politique de l'Ontario, ces contributions sont acceptées aux fins énoncées dans la Loi sur le financement des élections. Lorsque les droits d'inscription comprennent les frais d'hôtel, de repas et de voyage, le montant total des droits acquittés peut constituer une contribution, sous réserve du plafond applicable aux contributions.

Administration des contributions
Cette section contient des précisions sur l'acceptation, la consignation, la remise et la divulgation des contributions.

Acceptation, consignation et divulgation des contributions faites à un parti politique au moyen d'une base de données électronique permettant de consigner les contributions et de délivrer des récépissés

15. Si un parti politique inscrit est tenu ou a choisi d'utiliser une base de données électronique pour consigner les contributions et délivrer des récépissés, les articles 5 à 7 et 10 des Lignes directrices relatives aux bases de données électroniques s'appliquent en matière d'acceptation, de consignation et de divulgation des contributions faites audit parti.

Acceptation des contributions

(1) Les sommes d'argent qu'un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits accepte, ou celles qui sont acceptées pour son compte, doivent uniquement être déposées dans un compte bancaire dont les coordonnées figurent aux dossiers du directeur général des élections.

(2) Seuls le directeur des finances ou les autres personnes autorisées dont les noms figurent aux dossiers du directeur général des élections peuvent accepter des contributions.

Consignation des contributions
17. Le directeur des finances doit consigner les renseignements relatifs à tous les donateurs et à toutes les contributions acceptées :

a) pour le compte d'un parti politique inscrit ou d'une association de circonscription inscrite pendant une période de campagne électorale, séparément de celles acceptées pour le compte du parti ou de l'association pendant le reste de l'année

(1) Si le directeur des finances apprend qu'une contribution acceptée par un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits, ou pour leur compte, est contraire à la Loi sur le financement des élections, il rend au donateur un montant égal à la contribution dans les 30 jours qui suivent le moment où il en prend connaissance.

(2) Une telle contribution qui n'a pas été rendue au donateur ou toute contribution anonyme acceptée par un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits ne doit être utilisée à aucune autre fin et doit être versée au directeur général des élections.

Divulgation publique
19. Il est recommandé d'informer les donateurs de plus de 200 $ que leurs nom et adresse seront consignés et joints aux états financiers déposés et qu'Élections Ontario publiera les noms et les montants sur son site Web.

20. Un parti politique ou un candidat à la direction inscrit qui consigne des contributions pécuniaires d'une même source dont le total dépasse 200 $ doit divulguer le montant et le nom du donateur au directeur général des élections dans un délai de 15 jours ouvrables suivant le dépôt.

4. Récépissés

La présente ligne directrice porte sur les récépissés délivrés par une organisation politique inscrite admissible, qu'il s'agisse d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti.

Parti politique qui utilise une base de données électronique pour consigner les contributions et délivrer des récépissés

(2) Si un parti politique inscrit est tenu ou a choisi d'utiliser une base de données électronique pour consigner les contributions et délivrer des récépissés, l'article 8 des Lignes directrices relatives aux bases de données électroniques s'applique.

Obtention de récépissés par un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat ou un candidat à la direction d'un parti

(1) Seuls le directeur des finances et les personnes autorisées à accepter des contributions doivent signer et délivrer des récépissés pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat ou un candidat à la direction inscrits, car ils ont la responsabilité de s'assurer que toute contribution permise par la Loi sur le financement des élections est confirmée par la délivrance d'un récépissé.

(2) Seul le montant net du don considéré comme une contribution donne droit au récépissé.

Divulgation des récépissés
5.
(1) Le directeur des finances d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrits doit remettre une copie de tous les récépissés délivrés et annulés et de tous les avis d'annulation au directeur général des élections.

(2) Le directeur des finances doit aussi remettre au directeur général des élections un état de rapprochement de tous les récépissés indiquant ceux qui étaient inutilisés au commencement de la période visée, ceux qui ont été délivrés, annulés, perdus ou détruits et ceux qui restaient à la fin de la période.

Annulation des récépissés
(1) Après avoir pris connaissance de l'inadmissibilité d'une contribution remise au donateur, il faut annuler le récépissé délivré pour cette contribution de l'une des façons suivantes :

a) en récupérant l'exemplaire du récépissé d'origine auprès du donateur, puis en remboursant à celui-ci la contribution inadmissible

b) en envoyant au donateur dans les 30 jours un avis d'annulation du récépissé d'origine et un chèque de remboursement de la contribution inadmissible

(2) S'il est impossible de récupérer le récépissé d'origine pour l'annuler et qu'un avis d'annulation ne peut être signifié, le montant de la contribution doit être versé au directeur général des élections.

5. Revenu hors contribution

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur le revenu hors contribution, à savoir la collecte de fonds aux assemblées générales, les cotisations et les transferts.

Collecte de fonds aux assemblées générales tenues pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription ou un candidat

1. Si des fonds sont recueillis à une assemblée générale tenue pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription ou un candidat inscrits, tout montant de 10 $ ou moins qui est donné ne constitue pas une contribution faite au parti, à l'association ou au candidat.

Cotisation annuelle des membres d'un parti politique ou d'une association de circonscription

(1) La cotisation annuelle versée par les membres d'un parti politique inscrit ou d'une association de circonscription inscrite doit être traitée comme une contribution, à moins que :

a) la cotisation totale versée au parti ou à l'association ne dépasse pas 25 $

(1) Un parti politique inscrit peut accepter des fonds d'un parti politique fédéral enregistré seulement au cours d'une période de campagne électorale provinciale et uniquement pour un maximum de 100 $ à l'égard de chaque candidat inscrit qui est parrainé par ce parti politique. Ces fonds doivent être considérés comme des transferts et non comme des contributions.

(2) Un parti politique inscrit peut transférer des fonds à un parti politique fédéral enregistré seulement pendant une élection fédérale et uniquement pour un maximum de 100 $ à l'égard de chaque candidat dans une circonscription électorale fédérale en Ontario dont la candidature est parrainée par ce parti politique fédéral.

Contributions et transferts interdits pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture

6. Activités de financement

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur les activités de financement, le traitement des contributions et les exigences en matière de rapports.

Activités de financement

1. Une activité de financement désigne une activité qui est tenue dans le but de recueillir des fonds pour un parti, une association de circonscription, un candidat à l'investiture, un candidat ou un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrits aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections qui tiennent cette activité ou pour le compte desquels elle est tenue, et pour laquelle des droits de participation sont perçus par la vente de billets ou d'une autre façon.

2. Le nom du parti politique, de l'association de circonscription, du candidat, du candidat à la direction d'un parti ou du candidat à l'investiture inscrits qui parrainent l'activité de financement doit figurer clairement sur tous les documents distribués eu égard à cette activité, y compris lors de toute sollicitation de contributions.

Renseignements à afficher sur le site Web du parti politique au sujet des activités de financement

(1) Chaque parti politique auquel s'applique l'article 25.1 de la Loi sur le financement des élections doit afficher sur son site Web les renseignements suivants à l'égard de chaque activité de financement qui sera tenue par le parti politique, ses associations de circonscription et ses candidats ou pour leur compte :

(3) Le directeur général des élections a déterminé, par voie de directive, que l'affichage du nom de la ville en guise de lieu du déroulement de l'activité de financement est suffisant pour satisfaire aux exigences dudit article de la Loi.

Valeur nette de la contribution

4. Aux fins de la consignation des contributions et de la délivrance des récépissés liés à une activité de financement, le cas échéant, si :

a) d'une part, un donateur admissible fait un don

b) d'autre part, le donateur reçoit en échange de l'argent ou des biens alors la valeur de l'argent ou des biens doit être soustraite du don pour établir la valeur nette de la contribution, laquelle doit être indiquée sur le récépissé qui doit être délivré, le cas échéant, et seule cette valeur nette doit être traitée comme une contribution.

Les billets vendus jusqu'à 30 $ au-dessus de leur coût ne constituent pas une contribution

5. Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat ou un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrits qui tiennent une activité de financement peuvent, en plus des coûts directs, ajouter jusqu'à 30 $ au prix du billet sans que cette somme constitue une contribution.

Biens et services fournis dans le cadre d'une activité de financement

(1) La valeur des biens et des services fournis pour une activité de financement est réputée être la juste valeur marchande de biens et de services semblables.

(2) Les biens et les services fournis à l'occasion d'une activité de financement sont considérés comme une contribution si leur valeur totale dépasse 100 $, à l'exclusion du travail bénévole non rémunéré et des articles fabriqués bénévolement.

Biens et services mis en vente pendant une activité de financement

7.

(1) Constitue une contribution l'excédent du prix payé en contrepartie de biens ou de services, autres que des services de publicité, offerts en vente lors d'une activité de financement sur leur juste valeur marchande.

(2) Constitue une contribution toute somme payée pour des services de publicité dans le cadre d'une activité de financement.

Consignation et divulgation des activités de financement

8. Les revenus bruts de chaque activité de financement, indiqués séparément selon qu'ils proviennent de la vente de billets ou d'autres sources, doivent être consignés relativement à la période où se tient l'activité et communiqués au directeur général des élections avec les états financiers.

7. Prêts et cautionnements

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur les prêts et les cautionnements d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat, d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou d'un candidat à l'investiture inscrits.

Provenance des emprunts

1. Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits ne peuvent contracter des emprunts qu'auprès de l'une ou l'autre des entités suivantes :

    a) une institution financière

    b) un parti politique inscrit ou une association de circonscription inscrite

    Une institution financière désigne :

    a) une banque ou une banque étrangère autorisée au sens de l'article 2 de la Loi sur les banques (Canada)

    b) une société inscrite en application de la Loi sur les sociétés de prêt et de fiducie

    c) une caisse au sens de la Loi de 2020 sur les caisses populaires et les credit unions

    d) une association de détail au sens de la Loi sur les associations coopératives de crédit (Canada)

2. Il est interdit à quiconque, y compris à tout candidat, de consentir un prêt.

3. Le directeur général des élections peut considérer tout retard dans le paiement d'un fournisseur et le remboursement d'une dette comme un prêt d'une source non admissible.

Période d'emprunt

Cette section contient des précisions sur la période d'emprunt pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture inscrits.

Pour un parti politique ou une association de circonscription

4. Une association de circonscription ou un parti politique inscrits peuvent contracter des emprunts en tout temps pour exécuter leurs activités régulières.

6. Un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture ne peuvent contracter des emprunts pour la campagne de désignation ou la course à l'investiture qu'après s'être inscrits auprès du directeur général des élections.

Cautionnements et sûretés accessoires

7.

(1) Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou un candidat à l'investiture peuvent uniquement recevoir de l'aide sous forme de cautionnement ou de sûreté accessoire de la part :

    a) d'une entité ayant le droit de consentir un prêt

    b) d'une personne ayant le droit de faire une contribution

(2) Dans la mesure où il constitue une contribution aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections, le cautionnement est assujetti aux exigences et au plafond relatifs aux contributions. Toutefois, il ne peut pas faire l'objet d'un récépissé avant qu'il ne soit versé. Par conséquent, le plafond applicable au cautionnement d'un nouveau prêt correspond au plafond actuel des contributions, applicable aux contributions annuelles de la caution.

Contribution sous forme de prêt

(1) Un prêt consenti à un parti politique, à une association de circonscription, à un candidat, à un candidat à la direction d'un parti ou à un candidat à l'investiture ne constitue pas une contribution, sauf dans les cas suivants :

    a) l'institution financière renonce au droit de recouvrer le prêt, auquel cas la somme visée par la renonciation constitue une contribution assujettie au plafond applicable

    b) le prêt est consenti à un taux d'intérêt inférieur au taux du marché applicable, auquel cas le manque à gagner de l'institution financière (soit la différence entre les intérêts réellement facturés et ceux déterminés par le taux du marché) constitue une contribution et est assujetti au plafond applicable

(2) Si le parti politique, l'association de circonscription, le candidat, le candidat à la direction d'un parti ou le candidat à l'investiture inscrit qui a contracté un emprunt est en défaut de paiement, son obligation financière est transférée à la caution. Si la caution renonce au droit de recouvrer tout ou partie du paiement auprès du débiteur principal, la somme visée par la renonciation constitue une contribution au parti politique, à l'association de circonscription, au candidat, au candidat à la direction d'un parti ou au candidat à l'investiture et est assujettie au plafond applicable. Les conditions de remboursement doivent être communiquées au directeur général des élections.

Délais : prêts et cautionnements

9. Le parti politique, l'association de circonscription, le candidat, le candidat à la direction d'un parti ou le candidat à l'investiture qui reçoit un prêt doit le rembourser intégralement dans un délai d'au plus deux ans après :

a) la date à laquelle un candidat est choisi dans la circonscription électorale pour le parti du candidat à l'investiture, dans le cas d'un candidat à l'investiture

b) la date à laquelle est choisi le chef du parti du candidat à la direction d'un parti, dans le cas d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti

c) le jour du scrutin, dans le cas d'un candidat

d) le jour où le prêt est exigible, conformément à ses conditions, dans le cas d'un parti ou d'une association de circonscription

La personne qui cautionne un prêt ne doit pas donner le cautionnement pour une période plus longue que la période applicable.

Responsabilité de combler le déficit du candidat
10. Un parti politique inscrit ou une association de circonscription inscrite doit absorber tout déficit non encore comblé résultant de la campagne du candidat inscrit qu'il ou elle parraine en tant que candidat officiel. Le parti ou l'association a la responsabilité de veiller à ce que tout emprunt soit remboursé.

Déclaration des prêts
11. Les renseignements relatifs à tout emprunt d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti doivent être déclarés au directeur général des élections dans les états financiers.

8. Publicité politique

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur la publicité politique, à savoir les conditions d'autorisation, la période d'interdiction, les restrictions en matière de sondages pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat, une personne ou un tiers inscrits, et le plafond des dépenses pour un parti politique.

Définition
1. La publicité politique s'entend de la publicité ou des communications diffusées par les médias imprimés, électroniques ou autres, y compris la radiodiffusion, pour favoriser un parti politique inscrit ou son chef ou l'élection d'un candidat inscrit, ou pour s'y opposer. Elle comprend notamment les annonces dans les quotidiens, les revues et les magazines, la promotion à la télévision et à la radio, ainsi que les annonces sur des pancartes ou des panneaux, dans les abribus et sur Internet (incluant les sites Web, les blogues et les sites de médias sociaux).

   La « publicité politique » englobe la publicité ou les communications liées à une élection qui visent, de manière expresse ou implicite, les partis politiques ou leurs chefs, leurs candidats ou leurs programmes. Cela comprend la publicité électorale qui prend position sur une question d'intérêt public étroitement associée à un parti inscrit ou à son chef ou à un candidat inscrit dans le cadre d'une élection à venir (parfois appelée « publicité thématique »).

   La Loi sur le financement des élections restreint la publicité liée de manière expresse ou implicite à une élection, c'est-à-dire qui vise les partis ou leurs chefs, leurs candidats ou leurs programmes. En revanche, elle ne restreint pas les campagnes publiques favorables ou hostiles à des initiatives législatives ou stratégiques particulières qui ne sont pas axées sur l'élection, même lorsque cette publicité coïncide avec une période pendant laquelle la publicité politique de tiers est réglementée. En d'autres termes, une publicité sur des enjeux d'importance publique qui n'est pas liée de manière expresse ou implicite à une élection ne constitue pas une « publicité politique » au sens de la Loi.

Questions « étroitement associées »
Pour établir si une question donnée est « étroitement associée » à un parti, à son chef ou à un candidat, il y a lieu d'examiner les questions susceptibles d'être abordées au cours de la campagne électorale à venir, ou celles qui sont clairement associées à un parti, à un chef ou à un candidat en particulier dans le discours public, et d'analyser si la publicité relative à cette question est bien une publicité indirecte pour ou contre ce parti, ce chef ou ce candidat. La publicité, le programme électoral et les points de discussion d'un parti sont des éléments à prendre en compte pour déterminer si une question est « étroitement associée » à un parti, à son chef ou à un candidat. Lorsque le jour du scrutin est éloigné dans le temps (par exemple, au début de la « période non électorale »), il est plus difficile de savoir quelles questions sont susceptibles d'être « étroitement associées » à un parti, à son chef ou à un candidat en vue de la prochaine élection. La publicité diffusée au début de la période non électorale est donc moins susceptible de constituer une « publicité politique » que la publicité diffusée à un moment ultérieur de la période non électorale ou bien pendant la période électorale.

Pour établir si une publicité (y compris une publicité thématique) est une « publicité politique » ou non, le directeur général des élections examine les critères suivants :

a) s'il est raisonnable de conclure que la publicité était prévue précisément pour coïncider avec la période mentionnée à l'article intitulé « Plafonds »

b) si la mise en forme ou l'image de marque utilisée dans l'annonce est semblable à celle utilisée par un parti politique inscrit ou un candidat inscrit ou utilisée dans son matériel électoral

c) si la publicité mentionne l'élection, le jour de l'élection, le jour du scrutin ou des termes semblables

d) si l'annonce mentionne, directement ou indirectement, un parti politique inscrit ou un candidat inscrit

e) s'il y a une augmentation importante du volume normal de publicité que fait la personne, l'organisation ou l'entité

f) si la publicité en question paraît habituellement pendant la même période de l'année

g) si la publicité correspond à celle qu'a déjà faite la personne, l'organisation ou l'entité

h) si la publicité se situe dans les paramètres normaux de promotion d'une activité ou d'un programme précis

i) si le contenu de l'annonce est semblable à celui de la publicité politique d'un parti, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat à l'investiture, d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrits aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections

Le directeur général des élections tient également compte de tout autre facteur pertinent qui pourrait indiquer si une publicité particulière est liée ou non à une élection à venir.

Le directeur général des élections prend en considération toutes les circonstances propres à une publicité donnée, mais il estime très révélateur le fait que la publicité mentionne (directement ou indirectement) l'élection, le jour de l'élection, le jour du scrutin ou des termes semblables, ou bien un parti politique inscrit, son chef ou un candidat inscrit. De manière générale, la publicité qui inclut de telles mentions constitue de la publicité politique.

Éléments exclus de la définition de « publicité politique »
La publicité politique ne comprend pas :

a) la diffusion au public d'éditoriaux, de débats, de discours, d'entrevues, de chroniques, de lettres, de commentaires ou de nouvelles

b) la promotion ou la distribution d'un ouvrage, pour une valeur non inférieure à sa valeur commerciale, s'il était prévu qu'il soit mis à la disposition du public qu'il y ait ou non une élection

c) la communication, sous quelque forme que ce soit, par une personne, un groupe, une personne morale ou un syndicat, directement à ses membres, employés ou actionnaires, selon le cas

d) la diffusion par un particulier, sur une base non commerciale, de ses opinions politiques sur Internet

e) les appels téléphoniques visant uniquement à inciter des électeurs à voter

(2) Toute publicité diffusée pendant la période de campagne électorale doit nommer le parti politique, l'association de circonscription, le candidat ou le tiers inscrits et les personnes qui la parrainent ou la paient.

Restrictions en matière de publicité politique lors de la période d'interdiction 3.

(1) Un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat ou un tiers inscrits ne doivent pas faire diffuser de la publicité politique commerciale payée pendant une période d'interdiction. Sont exclus à ce titre les sites Web officiels des partis, associations de circonscription ou candidats inscrits, ainsi que les pancartes, brochures, envois postaux massifs ou individuels, appels téléphoniques automatisés ou individuels et communications dans les médias sociaux qu'ils autorisent.

(2) Dans le cadre de toute élection, une période d'interdiction comprend le jour du scrutin et la veille.

(3) Les activités publicitaires suivantes sont autorisées pendant une période d'interdiction :

a) Les véritables reportages, dont les interviews, les commentaires ou les autres travaux préparés et publiés par les quotidiens, les magazines ou d'autres périodiques dans quelque média que ce soit, sans frais pour le parti politique, l'association de circonscription, le candidat ou le tiers inscrits. De même, un radiodiffuseur peut diffuser de véritables reportages, mais ceux-ci sont assujettis aux dispositions, aux règles et aux directives de la Loi sur la radiodiffusion (Canada).

b) La publication de toute publicité politique, le jour du scrutin ou la veille, dans un journal qui est publié une fois par semaine ou moins souvent et dont le jour régulier de publication tombe le jour du scrutin ou la veille.

c) Une annonce politique qui paraît sur Internet ou dans un média électronique semblable, si elle y est affichée avant une période d'interdiction et qu'elle n'est pas modifiée ni distribuée de nouveau pendant une telle période.

d) Le site Web officiel d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription ou d'un candidat inscrits, y compris ses modifications et ses mises à jour.

e) Une annonce politique sous forme d'affiche ou de panneau, si elle est affichée avant une période d'interdiction et qu'elle n'est pas modifiée pendant une telle période (par exemple, publicité sur les autobus publics ou les abribus et dans les stations de métro).

Restrictions en matière de sondages électoraux
4. Il est interdit à un particulier, à une personne morale, à un syndicat, à un parti politique inscrit, à une association de circonscription inscrite et à un tiers inscrit de publier, de diffuser ou de transmettre au public, dans une circonscription électorale, le jour du scrutin avant la fermeture de tous les bureaux de vote de celle-ci, les résultats d'un sondage électoral qui n'ont pas été mis à la disposition du public antérieurement.

9. Dépenses liées à la campagne électorale

(2) Les dépenses liées à la campagne électorale comprennent la valeur des articles gardés en stock ou des dépenses prépayées liées à des services fournis à un candidat ou à un parti politique inscrit, ainsi que la valeur de tout article et service fournis au parti politique, à l'association de circonscription ou au candidat inscrits qui doivent être utilisés en totalité ou en partie pendant la période comprise entre le début de la période de campagne électorale et le jour du scrutin.

6. Le directeur des finances d'un candidat inscrit doit signifier par écrit à l'association de circonscription inscrite qui le parraine le montant total qu'elle peut dépenser pendant la campagne. L'association ne doit pas engager de dépenses supérieures à ce montant sans avoir obtenu au préalable l'approbation écrite du directeur des finances du candidat.

Le particulier, la personne morale ou le syndicat qui demande un paiement relativement aux dépenses liées à la campagne électorale doit présenter sa demande au directeur des finances du parti politique inscrit, de l'association de circonscription inscrite ou du candidat inscrit qui les a engagées dans les trois mois qui suivent le jour du scrutin.

Détermination du remboursement des dépenses d'un parti politique ou d'un candidat en fonction des suffrages exprimés

Conditions de remboursement des dépenses d'un parti politique ou d'un candidat

2.

(1) Un parti politique ou un candidat inscrit n'a droit à un remboursement que si les états financiers relatifs à la période de campagne électorale ont été déposés et que le directeur général des élections est convaincu que le parti ou le candidat se conforme aux exigences de la Loi sur le financement des élections.

Paiement provisoire versé à un parti à titre de remboursement

4. Le directeur général des élections peut, dès réception des états financiers et du rapport de l'auditeur, verser un paiement provisoire d'au plus 50 % du remboursement auquel le parti politique inscrit aura droit lorsque le directeur général des élections sera convaincu que les exigences de la Loi sur le financement des élections auront été remplies.

b) 20 % du plafond des dépenses liées à la campagne électorale qui s'applique au candidat et à l'association

(2) Pour les candidats inscrits dans les circonscriptions électorales d'Algoma–Manitoulin, de Kenora–Rainy River, de Kiiwetinoong, de Mushkegowuk–Baie James, de Nickel Belt, de Thunder Bay–Atikokan, de Thunder Bay–Supérieur-Nord et de Timiskaming–Cochrane, le remboursement est augmenté d'un montant calculé sur la base d'un facteur d'indexation déterminé pour l'année civile au paragraphe 38 (3.4) de la Loi sur le financement des élections et arrondi au cent le plus près.

Il convient de noter que le montant du remboursement destiné au candidat ne dépassera pas le montant des dépenses liées à la campagne électorale.

Déficit figurant au compte du candidat

6. Si les états financiers d'un candidat inscrit indiquent un déficit, celui-ci doit être traité comme suit :

a) tout remboursement auquel le candidat a droit doit être imputé d'abord au déficit

b) si le candidat est parrainé par un parti politique inscrit, tout déficit non encore comblé doit être absorbé par l'association de circonscription inscrite qui le parraine

Excédent figurant au compte du candidat
7. Tout excédent, déterminé en tenant compte des états financiers d'un candidat inscrit et de tout remboursement partiel auquel il a droit, doit être remis sans délai :

    b) soit au moins 5 % du nombre de votes validement exprimés dans une circonscription électorale où le parti a présenté un candidat

Calcul de l'allocation trimestrielle
9. Pour calculer l'allocation à verser chaque trimestre, on multiplie le taux trimestriel par le nombre de votes valides reçus par les candidats d'un parti à la dernière élection générale. Le taux trimestriel est de 0,636 $.

Allocation trimestrielle versée à une association de circonscription
Cette section contient des précisions sur l'admissibilité d'une association de circonscription à l'allocation trimestrielle et sur le calcul de cette allocation.

Condition d'admissibilité
10. Une association de circonscription peut recevoir une allocation trimestrielle si :

    a) son candidat a obtenu au moins 2 % des votes validement exprimés lors de la dernière élection dans la circonscription électorale concernée

    b) tous les documents qu'elle était tenue de déposer auprès d'Élections Ontario au cours de la période de quatre ans qui précède le trimestre concerné ont été déposés et sont complets

11. Dans le cas de l'association de circonscription d'un député indépendant, si ce dernier est réélu, une allocation doit être versée à son association de circonscription inscrite en fonction du pourcentage du nombre total de votes validement exprimés qu'il a obtenus en tant que candidat dans la circonscription électorale concernée lors de la dernière élection. De plus, s'il a été élu en sa qualité de candidat d'un parti inscrit, l'association de circonscription inscrite du parti inscrit continue d'avoir droit à l'allocation qu'elle recevrait par ailleurs.

Calcul de l'allocation trimestrielle
12. L'allocation trimestrielle propre à chaque circonscription électorale est répartie entre les associations admissibles en fonction du pourcentage du nombre de votes validement exprimés que leur candidat a obtenu lors de la dernière élection. Le montant de l'allocation trimestrielle destinée aux associations de circonscription de chaque circonscription électorale s'élève à 4 879,17 $.

11. États financiers

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur l'obligation pour un parti politique, une association de circonscription, un candidat ou un candidat à la direction d'un parti de déposer des états financiers, ainsi que sur les conséquences d'un manquement à cette exigence.

Cas dans lesquels un audit est exigé
1. Le directeur des finances est tenu de déposer des états financiers audités pour toute période de déclaration au cours de laquelle il a reçu des contributions d'au moins 10 000 $ ou engagé des dépenses d'au moins 10 000 $.

Contenu et date de dépôt
Cette section contient des précisions sur les périodes de déclaration, ainsi que sur les déclarations ou les états financiers annuels, relatifs à la période de campagne électorale et relatifs à la période de course à l'investiture qu'un parti politique inscrit, une association de circonscription inscrite, un candidat inscrit ou un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrit sont tenus de déposer.

    a) dans le cas du parti politique, à l'exclusion des recettes et des dépenses liées à une élection qui sont reçues ou engagées pendant une période de campagne électorale

    b) dans le cas de l'association de circonscription, à l'exclusion des recettes et des dépenses reçues ou engagées pendant une période de campagne électorale

Définition de « période de campagne électorale »
3. La période de campagne électorale commence à la publication du décret de convocation des électeurs et se termine trois mois après le jour du scrutin.

États financiers relatifs à la période de campagne électorale d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription ou d'un candidat

4. Le directeur des finances d'un parti politique, d'une association de circonscription ou d'un candidat inscrits doit déposer des états financiers signés relatifs à la période de campagne électorale et les pièces justificatives auprès du directeur général des élections dans les six mois qui suivent le jour du scrutin. Ces états financiers présentent :

    a) dans le cas du parti politique, uniquement les recettes et les dépenses liées à l'élection qui sont reçues ou engagées pendant la période de campagne électorale

    b) dans le cas de l'association de circonscription ou du candidat, toutes les recettes et les dépenses reçues ou engagées pendant la période de campagne électorale

5. Dans le cas d'une élection partielle, un parti politique ou une association de circonscription peut déposer, au lieu des états financiers relatifs à la période de campagne électorale, une déclaration selon laquelle aucune contribution ni dépense liée à l'élection partielle n'a été reçue ou engagée.

États financiers relatifs à la période de campagne de désignation du chef d'un parti d'un candidat à la direction

6. Le directeur des finances d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrit doit déposer auprès du directeur général des élections deux états financiers signés distincts relatifs à la campagne de désignation du chef du parti :

    a) Dans les six mois qui suivent la date du scrutin tenu en vue de désigner le chef du parti, le premier état doit être déposé à l'égard de la période qui commence à la date du déclenchement officiel de la campagne de désignation du chef du parti ou à la date d'inscription, selon la première éventualité, et qui se termine deux mois après la date du scrutin.

    b) Dans les 20 mois qui suivent la date du scrutin tenu en vue de désigner le chef du parti, le second état doit être déposé à l'égard de la période de 12 mois qui commence deux mois après la date du scrutin.

    c) Le seuil d'audit de 10 000 $ est cumulatif : il ne doit pas être appliqué séparément à chaque période de déclaration.

Excédent figurant dans le second état financier d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti

7. Tout excédent qui figure dans le second état financier déposé par un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrit doit être remis au parti politique inscrit qui a tenu la campagne de désignation du chef du parti.

Déficit figurant dans le second état financier d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti

8. Si le second état financier déposé par un candidat inscrit à la direction d'un parti présente un déficit, il faut joindre un tableau distinct dressant la liste des dettes non remboursées et une déclaration précisant comment elles seront acquittées. Les fonds utilisés pour rembourser le déficit de campagne d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti seront considérés comme des contributions; les restrictions régissant les contributions aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections s'appliquent de plein droit.

9. Si un parti politique inscrit consent à payer ces dettes, une lettre signée par un responsable du parti et confirmant clairement l'engagement doit être jointe aux documents déposés.

Défaut de déposer des états financiers – parti politique ou association de circonscription

10. Si le directeur des finances d'un parti politique inscrit ou d'une association de circonscription inscrite omet de déposer toute partie des états financiers annuels ou relatifs à la période de campagne électorale, le parti ou l'association peuvent être radiés.

Défaut de déposer des états financiers – candidat, candidat à la direction d'un parti ou candidat à l'investiture

11. Si le directeur des finances d'un candidat inscrit ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrit qui n'est pas élu omet de déposer toute partie des états financiers, le candidat ou le candidat à la direction est inhabile à se porter candidat à n'importe quelle élection postérieure jusqu'à la prochaine élection générale, y compris celle-ci, à moins qu'auparavant, les états financiers complets soient déposés auprès du directeur général des élections.

12. Si le directeur des finances d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti qui est élu omet de déposer toute partie des états financiers, le directeur général des élections doit en aviser le président de l'Assemblée législative, qui doit en informer l'Assemblée, et le candidat ou le candidat à la direction peut perdre son siège à l'Assemblée.

La présente ligne directrice contient des précisions sur la publicité politique, les restrictions, l'exigence et le processus d'inscription, les contributions, les transferts, le plafond des dépenses, la collusion et les exigences en matière de rapports applicables à un tiers.

Définitions

1. La publicité politique s'entend de la publicité ou des communications diffusées par les médias imprimés, électroniques ou autres, y compris la radiodiffusion, pour favoriser un parti politique inscrit ou son chef ou l'élection d'un candidat inscrit, ou pour s'y opposer. Elle comprend notamment les annonces dans les quotidiens, les revues et les magazines, la promotion à la télévision et à la radio, ainsi que les annonces sur des pancartes ou des panneaux, dans les abribus et sur Internet (incluant les sites Web, les blogues et les sites de médias sociaux).

    La « publicité politique » englobe la publicité ou les communications liées à une élection qui visent, de manière expresse ou implicite, les partis politiques ou leurs chefs, leurs candidats ou leurs programmes. Cela comprend la publicité électorale qui prend position sur une question d'intérêt public étroitement associée à un parti inscrit ou à son chef ou à un candidat inscrit dans le cadre d'une élection à venir (parfois appelée « publicité thématique »).

    La Loi sur le financement des élections restreint la publicité liée de manière expresse ou implicite à une élection, c'est-à-dire qui vise les partis ou leurs chefs, leurs candidats ou leurs programmes. En revanche, elle ne restreint pas les campagnes publiques favorables ou hostiles à des initiatives législatives ou stratégiques particulières qui ne sont pas axées sur l'élection, même lorsque cette publicité coïncide avec une période pendant laquelle la publicité politique de tiers est réglementée. En d'autres termes, une publicité sur des enjeux d'importance publique qui n'est pas liée de manière expresse ou implicite à une élection ne constitue pas une « publicité politique » au sens de la Loi.

2. Pour établir si une question donnée est « étroitement associée » à un parti, à son chef ou à un candidat, il y a lieu d'examiner les questions susceptibles d'être abordées au cours de la campagne électorale à venir, ou celles qui sont clairement associées à un parti, à un chef ou à un candidat en particulier dans le discours public, et d'analyser si la publicité relative à cette question est bien une publicité indirecte pour ou contre ce parti, ce chef ou ce candidat. La publicité, le programme électoral et les points de discussion d'un parti sont des éléments à prendre en compte pour déterminer si une question est « étroitement associée » à un parti, à son chef ou à un candidat.

   Une publicité thématique est considérée comme axée ou non sur l'élection en fonction de sa finalité. Si la publicité a pour but d'influer sur le résultat d'une élection, il s'agit bien de « publicité politique ». Si elle vise à soutenir une campagne de revendication existante, il est moins probable qu'elle soit considérée comme de la publicité politique. Lorsqu'une annonce peut avoir plusieurs finalités, le directeur général des élections examine si sa finalité principale est liée à l'élection.

3. Pour établir si une publicité (y compris une publicité thématique) est une « publicité politique » ou non, le directeur général des élections examine les critères suivants :

   a) s'il est raisonnable de conclure que la publicité était prévue précisément pour coïncider avec la période mentionnée à l'article intitulé « Plafonds »

   b) si la mise en forme ou l'image de marque utilisée dans l'annonce est semblable à celle utilisée par un parti politique inscrit ou un candidat inscrit ou utilisée dans son matériel électoral

   c) si la publicité mentionne l'élection, le jour de l'élection, le jour du scrutin ou des termes semblables

   d) si l'annonce mentionne, directement ou indirectement, un parti politique inscrit ou un candidat inscrit

   e) s'il y a une augmentation importante du volume normal de publicité que fait la personne, l'organisation ou l'entité

   f) si la publicité en question paraît habituellement pendant la même période de l'année

   g) si la publicité correspond à celle qu'a déjà faite la personne, l'organisation ou l'entité

   h) si la publicité se situe dans les paramètres normaux de promotion d'une activité ou d'un programme précis

   i) si le contenu de l'annonce est semblable à celui de la publicité politique d'un parti, d'une association de circonscription, d'un candidat à l'investiture, d'un candidat ou d'un candidat à la direction d'un parti inscrits aux termes de la Loi sur le financement des élections

   Le directeur général des élections tient également compte de tout autre facteur pertinent qui pourrait indiquer si une publicité particulière est liée ou non à une élection à venir.

   Le directeur général des élections prend en considération toutes les circonstances propres à une publicité donnée, mais il estime très révélateur le fait que la publicité mentionne (directement ou indirectement) l'élection, le jour de l'élection, le jour du scrutin ou des termes semblables, ou bien un parti politique inscrit, son chef ou un candidat inscrit. De manière générale, la publicité qui inclut de telles mentions constitue de la publicité politique.

(a) the Crown in right of Canada; or

(b) a band, the council of a band or an education authority where the band, council of a band or education authority is authorized by the Crown in right of Canada to provide education for Indians.

(2) The fee in respect of the pupil is calculated by multiplying the day school ADE of the pupil by the base fee for the board as set out in,

1. One arbitrator appointed by the board.

2. One arbitrator appointed by the party from whom the fee is receivable.

3. (1) Le présent article s'applique à l'égard de l'élève inscrit à un programme d'école de jour dans une école qui relève d'un conseil scolaire de district ou d'un conseil isolé si le conseil peut recevoir des droits à l'égard de cet élève, de la part :

a) soit de la Couronne du chef du Canada;

b) soit d'une bande, d'un conseil de bande ou d'une commission indienne de l'éducation que la Couronne du chef du Canada autorise à dispenser l'enseignement aux Indiens.

(2) Les droits exigibles à l'égard de l'élève sont calculés en multipliant l'effectif quotidien moyen des écoles de jour pour l'élève par les droits de base relatifs au conseil indiqués :

a) à la colonne 2 du tableau 1, dans le cas d'un élève de l'élémentaire inscrit à une école qui relève d'un conseil scolaire de district;

(3) Pour l'application du paragraphe (2), l'effectif quotidien moyen des écoles de jour pour un élève visé à ce paragraphe est l'effectif quotidien moyen des écoles de jour pour les autres élèves du conseil, calculé comme si l'élève était le seul élève du conseil.

(4) Si une partie qui doit payer des droits demande que le conseil fournisse un programme, un service ou un matériel éducatif à l'intention d'un élève visé au paragraphe (1) aux termes d'une entente conclue au plus tard le 31 août 2019 en vertu du paragraphe 188 (1) de la Loi, dans la version de ce paragraphe au 31 août 2019, ou si le conseil recommande une telle mesure et que la partie est d'accord, les droits exigibles à l'égard de l'élève peuvent être majorés comme suit :

2. Si le conseil reçoit un financement partiel pour le programme, le service ou le matériel dans le cadre des droits de base calculés pour l'élève, les droits peuvent être majorés d'un montant égal à l'excédent du coût du programme, du service ou du matériel sur le montant reçu dans le cadre des droits de base.

(5) Pour l'application du paragraphe (4), si le conseil qui offre le programme, le service ou le matériel éducatif et la partie qui doit payer les droits ne peuvent pas convenir du montant dont les droits doivent être majorés, celui-ci est fixé par trois arbitres, nommés comme suit :

1. Un arbitre nommé par le conseil.

(6) La somme visée à la disposition 1 du paragraphe (4) à l'égard de l'élève est calculée en multipliant l'effectif quotidien moyen des écoles de jour pour l'élève par la somme des frais de pension de l'élève et des droits de base relatifs au conseil indiqués :
